"What Did You Learn in School Today, Dear Little Boy of Mine?"

With the words of the old folk tune, "What Did You Learn in School Today?" the 1966 El Toro presents pictorially the individuality of this school year in two different ways—first by using action shots that show what students, club members, teachers, and athletes actually did instead of the traditional posed pictures, and by including the entire school year from registration to graduation. In this "The Best Year Yet" KHS has become a closer knit unit, working, playing pushing to make this the best school yet. May this yearbook serve to link the past year with the coming one and so rekindle this Brahma spirit so that it will emerge as the light of 1966-67.

And everywhere

Bottom: Bong! Bow to the will of the master. Cindy Hartman acts as mistress of ceremonies for the FHA Ball while Mr. Paul Jones, principal, attempts to improve the sound production.

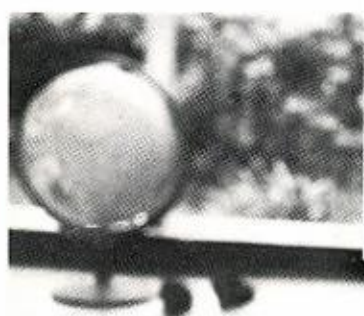

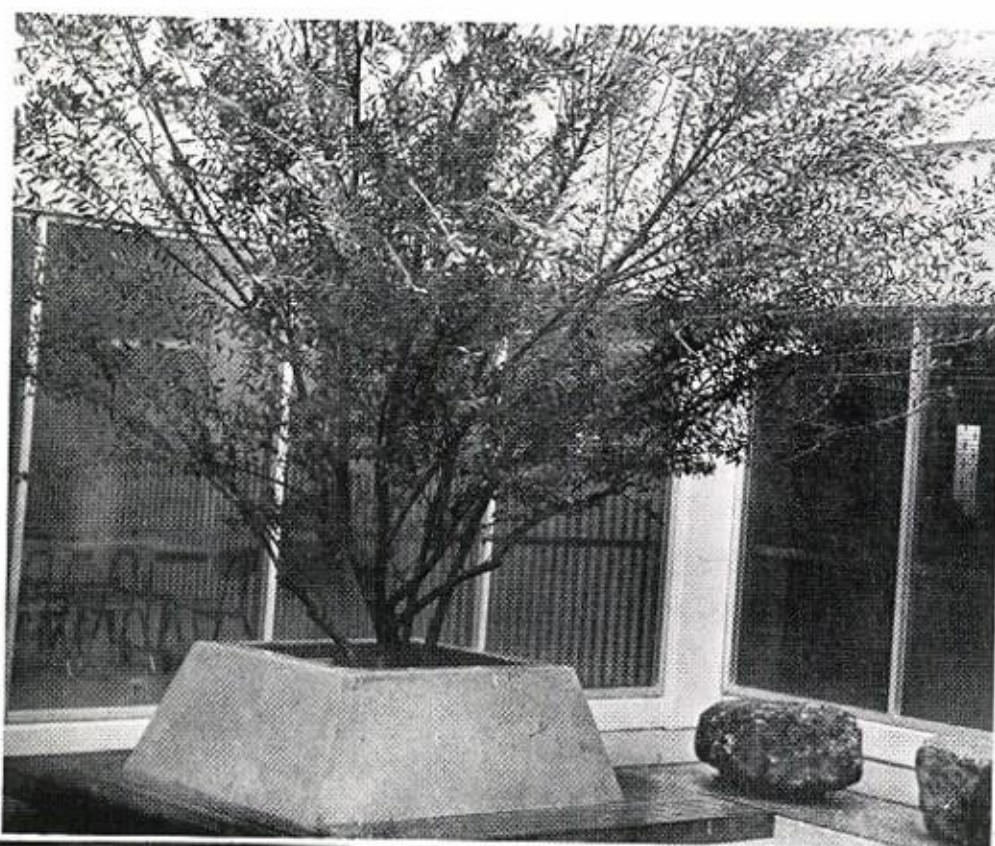

Their voices become undistinguishable in the halls, whispers in the classroom, and silent in the auditorium. Footsteps echo in the corridors, resound at the final escape of each day, and shuffle to the beat of music at the Homecoming dance and the Prom. Lockers slam shut, accompanied by the groans of book-laden students looking forward to homework. And the beat persists, throbbing through the body and soul as Beat '66 swings on, as football players clash, as basketballs swish through, as tennis balls fly by, as track keeps going, and as cafeteria food looms ahead. Eyes smile in anticipation as rings arrive, invitations make an appearance, and diplomas pass from hand-to-hand. Lake King invites nature lovers, while the biology greenhouse defines the meaning of green thumbs. And everywhere the people are, they sing in praise and cry in joy. They read a book or act a part. They work, play, meet, or just exist. They are and will persist as leaders and followers, and men and women. Each follows or captures a dream, a piece of eternity, a drop of rain. These are the people from Henrietta M. King High.

the PEOPLE are

Registering, Painting Signs

Twirling, Witnessing

For three years Powder Puff fans were entertained by Drum Major Leo Canales and for many years the King Ranch has provided the school children of Kingsville with a concert by the Corpus Christi Symphony. Barbara Lacy witnesses in a mock trial in a civics class.

September, October, November are memorable because they were filled with the joys of beginning a school year . . . registration . . . seeing old friends, making new ones . . . football victories, and defeats . . . pep rallies . . . spirit contests . . . Homecoming. The people of KHS became involved during these months. Involved in plans . . . a summer delivery year-book. Involved in social functions . . . Homecoming, queens, sweethearts, princesses, and beaus. Involved in getting ready for college . . . SAT preliminaries. Involved in hosting . . . Band Day . . . next year's library convention. Involved in winning . . . eighteen members in regional orchestra. The year was underway, the stage was set, the mood, apparent—this would be the best year yet.

Celebrating Christmas,

December, January, and February made themselves noticeable with a breath of . . . joy . . . loneliness . . . freedom . . . laughter . . . sadness . . . pensiveness . . . strangeness . . . learning . . . and the orient. Each brought its own personality to tinge the changing moods. As the moods moved, the events followed one another into the realm of remembrance, special to each person in a different way. Memories made of tinsel and spotlights, of sights and sounds, of tears unshed, of dreams come true, of things gone by to never return, and of laughter shared were stored in the brain cells of those who took a part in each creation.

GI Joe Tommy Nelms dreams of home, while North Pole visitor Santa Claus (Coach Ronnie Johnson) signs for a suite. Princess Catherine Caradja expounds on "The Worth of Freedom," and Johnny Wooley says good-bye to King High and the Student Cabinet presidency.

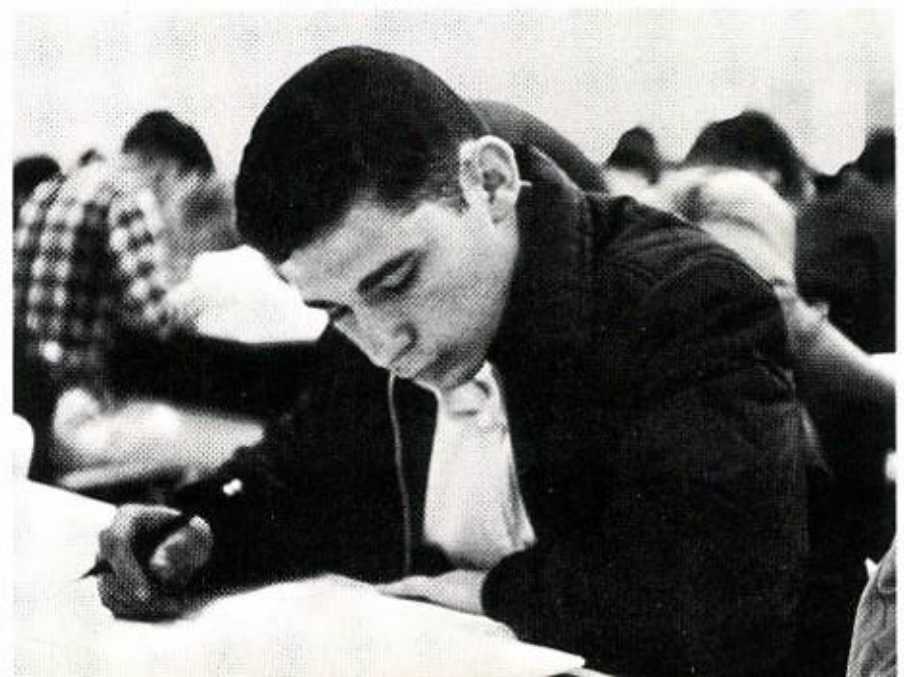

Lab technicians were among the professions represented at King High's first Career Day. John Calkins attempts to pass by a faculty guard. Senior ring orders highlight Vladimir Medina's day, while Frank Stockwell guesses again during the Air Force test. FHA ball gets underway as Cindy Hartman awaits her cue with FHA guests.

Taking Tests, Buying

Rings, Advancing to Regional UIL,

Sally Foster, Jan Anderson, Connie Torres, Elio Ramirez, Carolyn Pack, Mike McCormick, and Hector Garcia competed in Regional UIL. Mr. Marty Schultz performs the gorey task on Aurora Perez while Cecilia Garcia and Maggie Salinas watch. Students enjoyed the antics of the beavers as photographed by Mr. Earl Hilfiker.

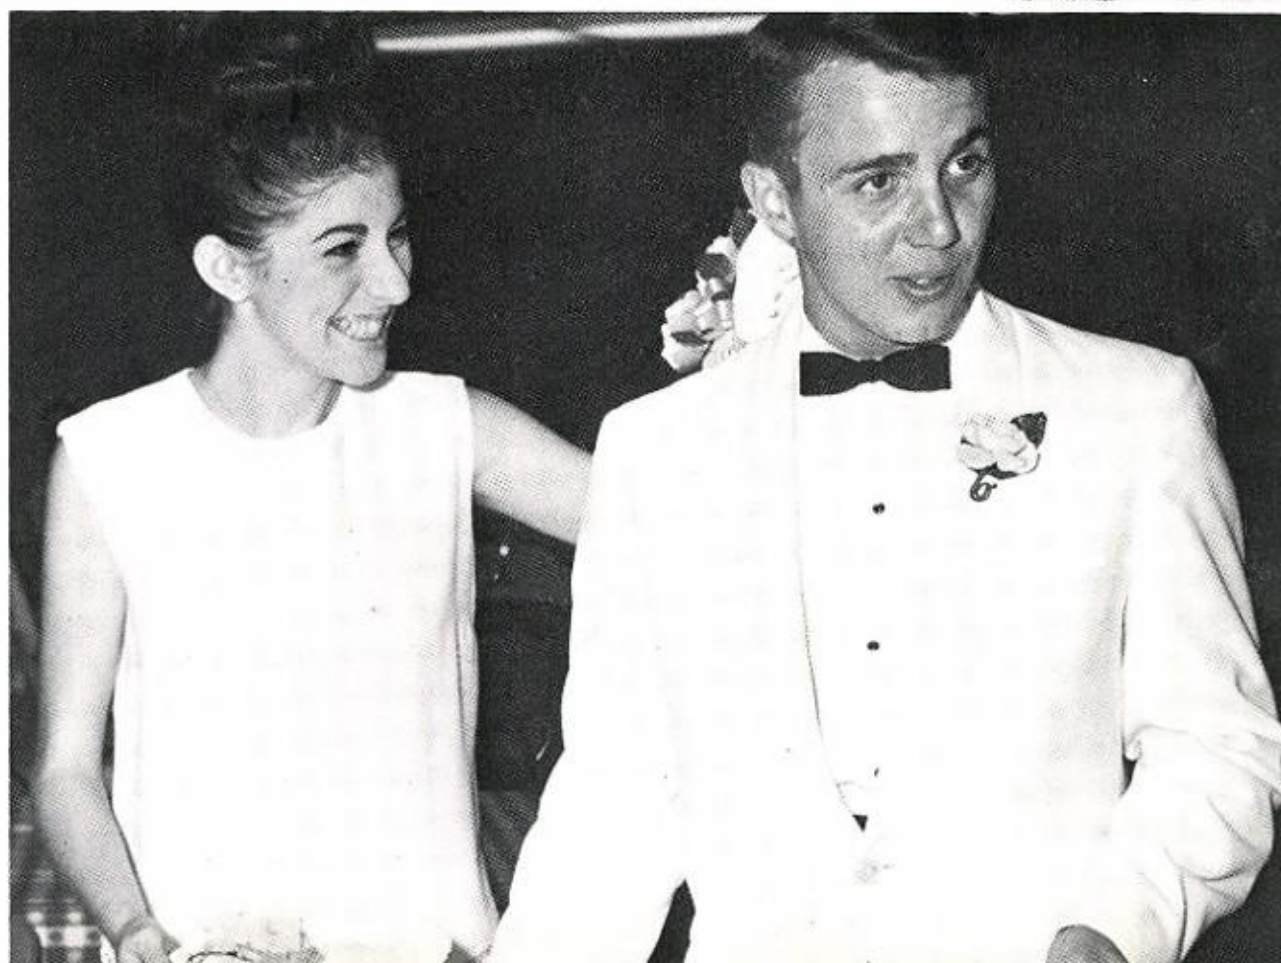

With a fistful of activities, March and April rivaled for prominence in the thoughts of students with . . . UIL competition . . . Jr.-Sr. Buffet Prom . . . Easter Assembly . . . cheerleader tryouts . . . Audubon film . . . and blood typing. Seeming to seek a beginning for the end, more students became engaged in the activities.

Dancing at the Buffet-Prom,

"Beat"ing, Listening, Fishing,

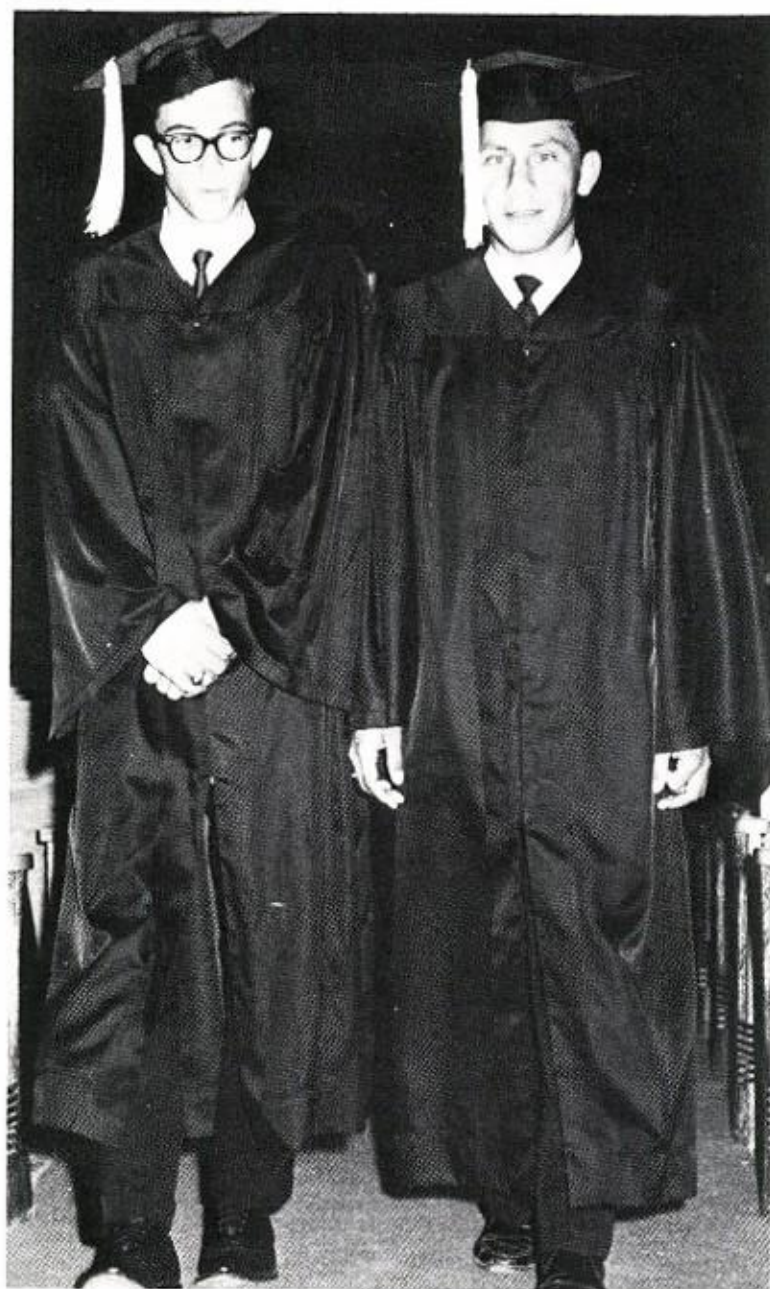

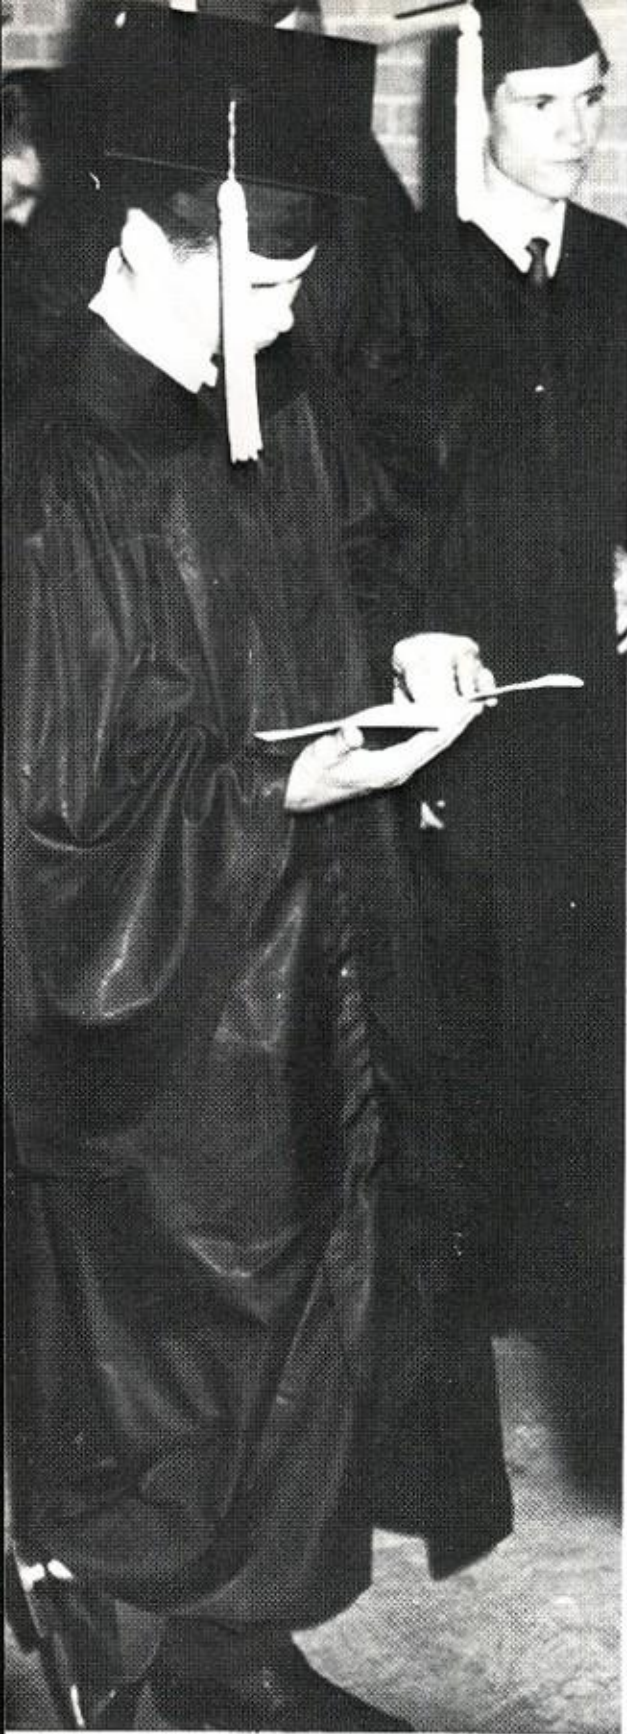

Robert Walker, right, alias "Sonny" and Thomas Arthur alias "Cher" belt out a surfing song at the "Beat '66," while Mr. Jones and Mary Boyer relive the adventures of Astronaut Scott Carpenter. Junior-about-to-be-Senior Ellen Fein compares her newly arrived senior ring with Carolyn Pack's last year's ring. As summer rains began to fall, "Lake King" was formed. Principal Paul F. Jones helps Barbara Patzig, Patty Yeagle, Carmen Evans, and Peggy Wilson tackle the fishermen's trade. Dolly Ingraham beckons another senior to the forum where Mr. E. R. Holland exchanges receipts for gowns. The Graduating Class of '66.

May came to wave a last good-bye with a deluge of . . . water . . . preparations . . . music . . . rings . . . astronauts . . . diplomas . . . caps and gowns. Each activity brought a reminder that the end was near. Each increased the excitement for each student as the finals became imminent. The end came. Two by two they filed out with each having things to do and places to go for the coming years.

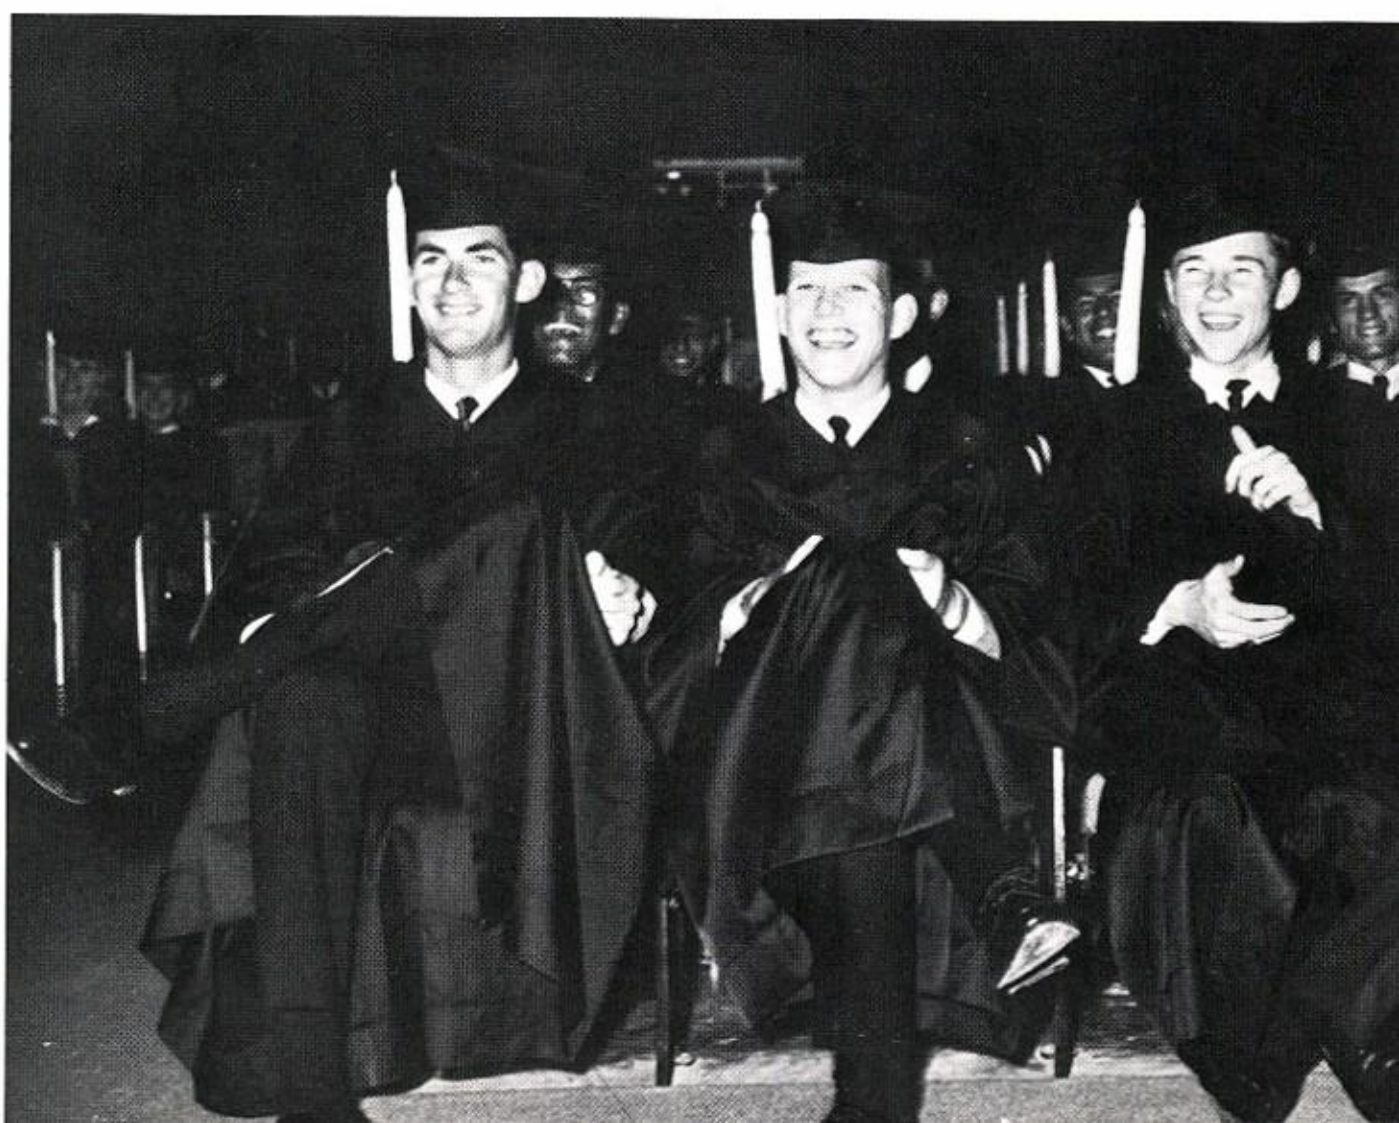

Wearing Caps And Gowns

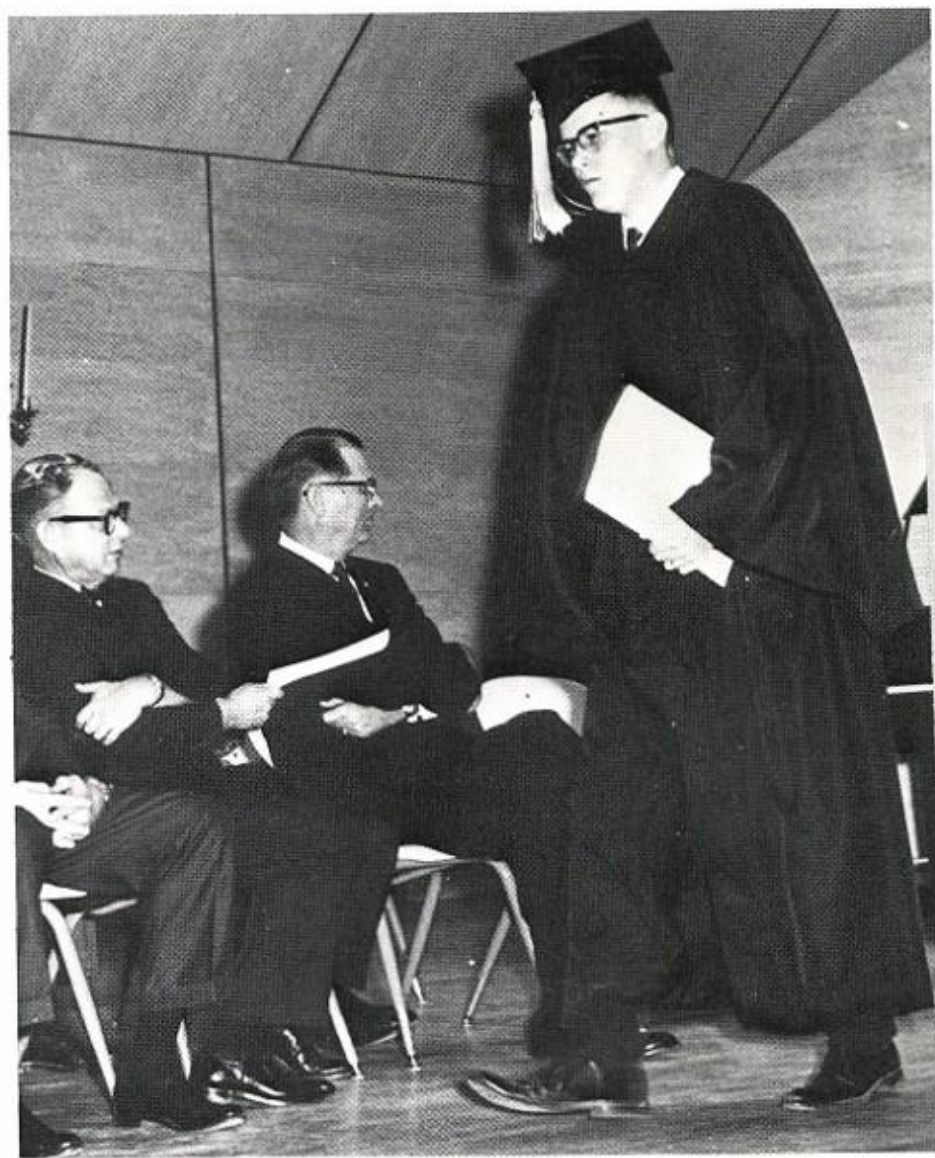

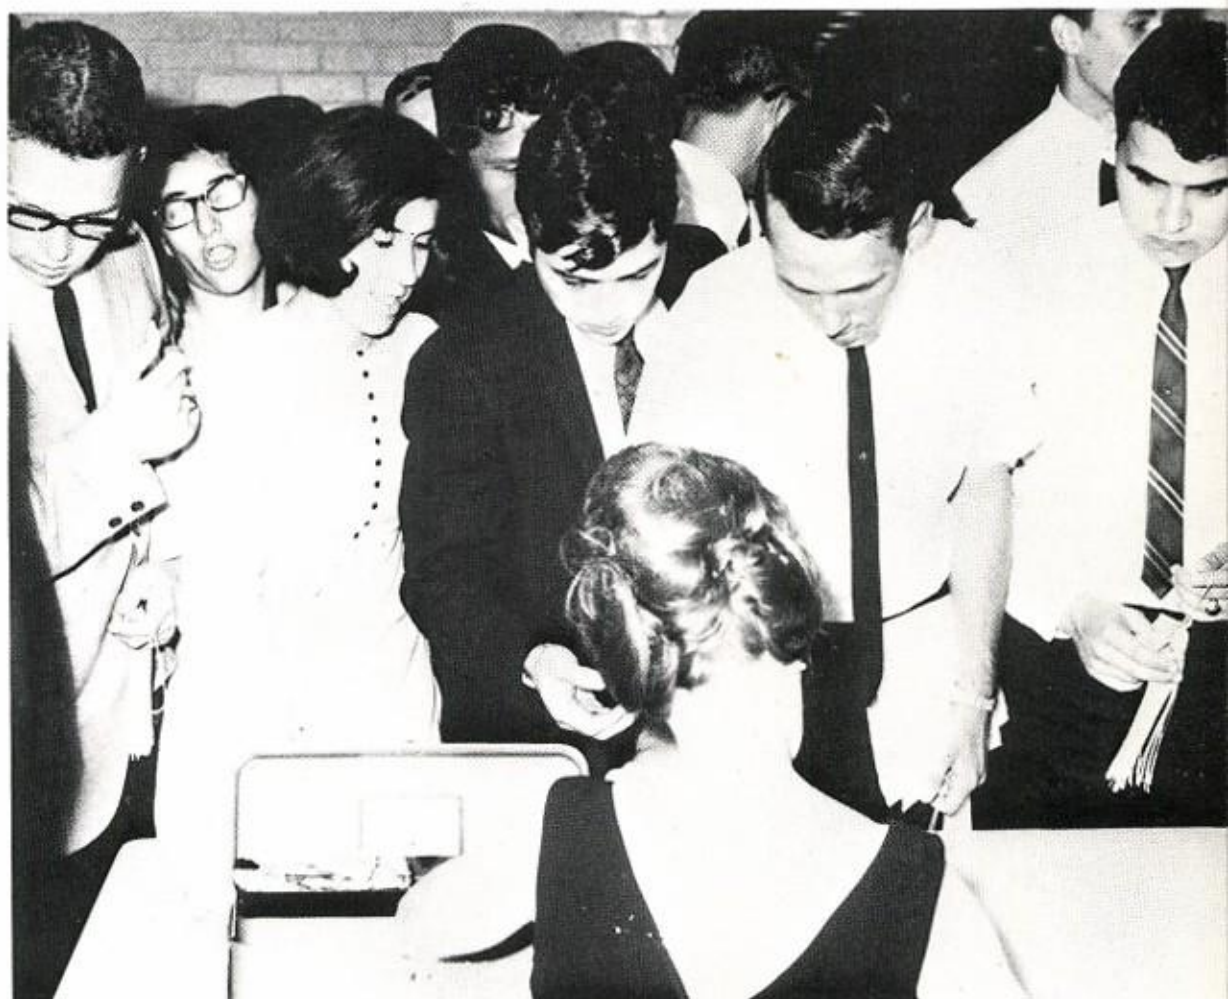

Graduating,

Relaxed after finding his name, Jack Fisher peruses the program for his friends' names. No clapping, but the actual beat for a guide, guides John Calkins and Abe Campos as they enter the auditorium for commencement exercises. Mike Bars, Jack Beauchamp, and Larry Beauchamp enjoy the speech delivered by Dr. Dan Procter. Money, money, money piled as tassels became the property of Mike McBride, while other graduates fought their way forward. Hold the diploma with left hand and shake hands with the right, Sally Foster makes the adjustment as Mr. John S. Gillett distributes the diplomas. Jim Via holds tight to his diploma as he walks across the stage.

Who's

For the selection of the all-senior Who's Who, faculty members devised a new system. This year a committee of teachers from various departments carefully reviewed nominations made by the faculty. All qualifications were reviewed but five were most seriously considered. These were service to the school, scholastic average, utilization of talent, attitude of the student, and participation. For the first time Who's Who members' names were submitted for publication in Distinguished High School Students Of America.

Phillip Baker was bored with the blank wall in his tiny Latin classroom. To remedy the situation he painted a mural depicting Roman life. Here he sits by that painting with the "genuine" Roman helmet he wore to the Latin Club Banquet where he officiated as president. He is a two year member of SPQR. In other clubs he has been active in the French Club and the Art Club. Phillip also served the school as a counselor's assistant. Before coming to Kingsville he was active in FFA and UIL. He was inducted into National Honor Society this year and is a Minnie Piper scholarship finalist as well as winner of Rotary Club scholarship. At commencement exercises he received a major "K" award for his academic achievements.

John Atterbury won his nomination to Who's Who on the baseball diamond where he actively participated for three years. He further served athletics by being a top notch football manager for two years. One year he reigned as Powder Puff Queen and for three years he was in the K Club. One year he represented the K Club in the Student Cabinet. His two year election to National Honor Society proves his accomplishments are not limited to sports, but extend to academic areas as well. His scholastic average entitled him to a major "K" award at commencement.

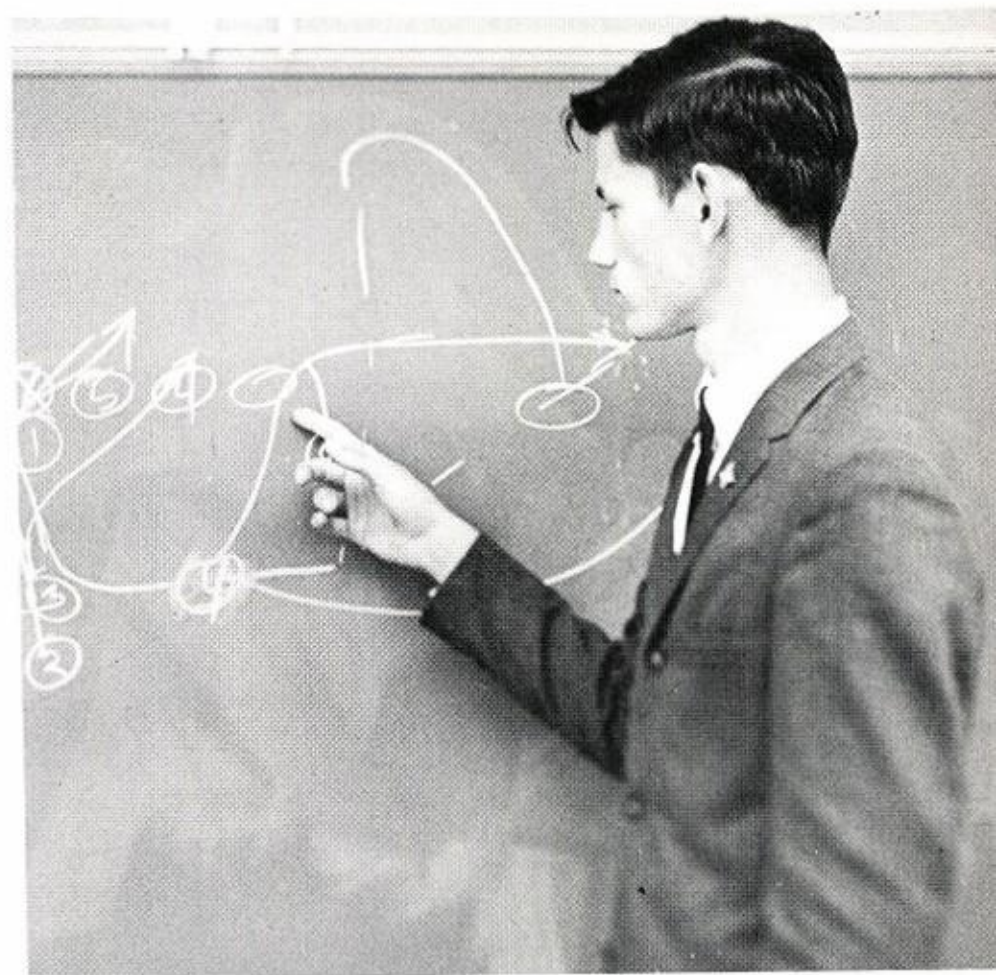

Gary Carley was always losing his contacts on the football field or basketball court, but he evidently made contact with the right people as he won an athletic scholarship to Rice University. He was a three year football man, three year basketball man, and a three year track man. This year in basketball he was the zone's leading scorer and assisted the ladies as Powder Puff coach. He has served in the K Club and on the Student Cabinet. This year he was treasurer of the Kleberg Youth Council. He was a delegate to the Attorney General's Youth Conference.

Robert Cumberland, the athlete, the leader, the scholar, represented King High in Austin twice this past summer—to Boy's State and to the Attorney General's Youth Conference. For two years he excelled in varsity football and basketball, having been active on both B teams the previous year. He has served in the K Club and KYC. A two year member of the National Honor Society, he was elected president this year. His scholarship was further recognized at graduation where he received a major "K" and the Dow Chemical Company scholarship in chemical engineering.

Who

Mary Boyer served King High as secretary of the Student Cabinet and as the source of more Branding Irons than any other student. Her ready wit makes her a popular favorite. She will try almost anything as is evidenced by her club participation—French Club, FHA, FTA, Science Club, KYC, Drama Club, Debate, Art Club. For two years she played Powder Puff football and this year she contributed many selections to Descant, King High's first literary magazine, for which she served as Art Editor. She has served as an office assistant and as a staff member on the Brahma Round-Up. She received special recognition for her editorial "Eggs In a Basket."

Hector Garcia, the scholar, the mathematician, and the sports editor, here works on a yearbook sports layout in the snack bar. As a scholar he ranked so near the top of his class that he received a major "K" award, a two year membership in National Honor Society, and a one year membership in Quill and Scroll. He was awarded the Nahara Girls Club scholarship to A&I. As an outstanding math student, he progressed to regional in UIL number sense competition. He served on the El Toro, both as Junior Class editor and as sports editor. He was on the Brahma Round-Up staff, president of El Aguila, a delegate to the Attorney General's Youth Conference, and a member of KYC and Press Club.

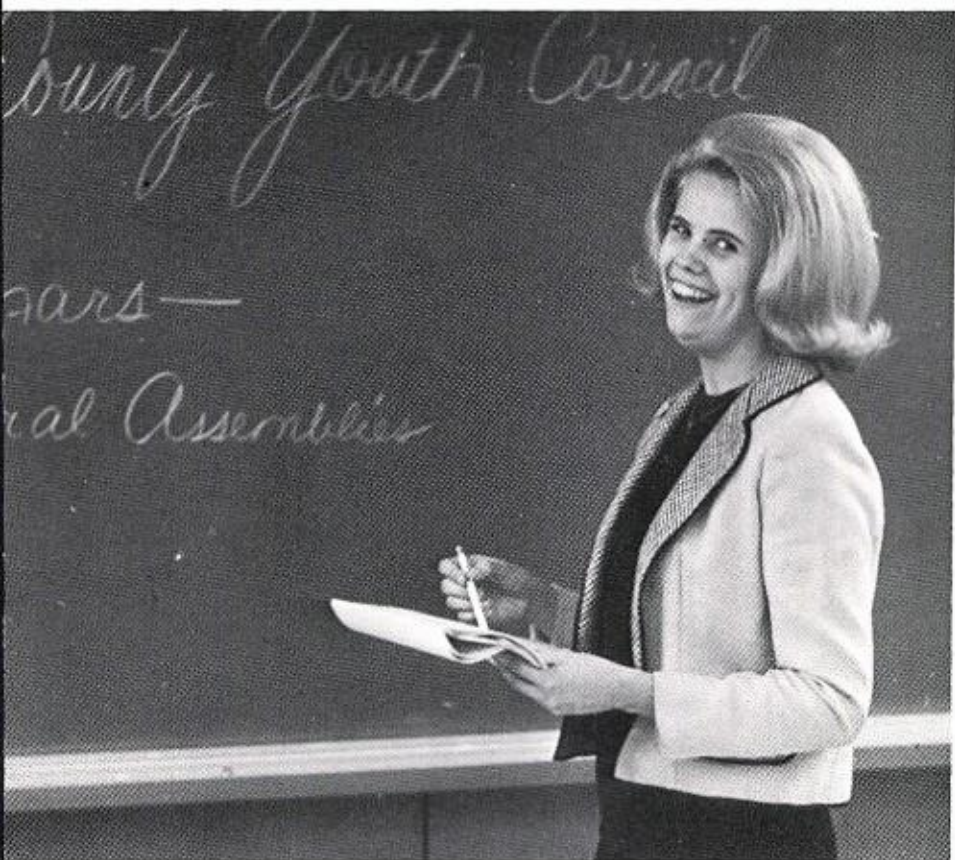

Patricia Ana Garcia, a two year journalism student, served her first year as reporter of the Brahma Round-Up and this year as News Editor. Pat climaxed her three years of El Toro work by serving as Editor of this book. As assistant editor of Descant she helped publish King High's first literary magazine. It was through her efforts that King High had its own radio program, Teen Impact, sponsored by the KYC. Active in KYC work she attended the Attorney General's Youth Conference last year and again this year. For her scholastic achievement she received a major "K" award, two year membership in National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll and a scholarship from the Elks Lodge. She was an active member of Press Club, Drama Club, Student Cabinet and Brahmattes Debate and SPQR. This year she was elected Homecoming Princess.

Rolando Garza has served his school as an outstanding athlete. He has further exhibited a superior desire to excel in academic work and a high degree of cooperation in all his efforts. Three years he played football and participated in track events. He was named Football Captain and Track Captain. For basketball he served as manager and for the K-Club he was president. For two years he coached Powder Puff. For his athletic accomplishment he was awarded with a scholarship to Highlands University in New Mexico.

Mildred Haisley, an outstanding Brahma Backer, served three years as cheerleader. She was a Brahmette, a counselor's assistant, and an office assistant. She was elected Homecoming Princess and received the DAR good citizenship award. A two year member of National Honor Society, she was also active in Science Club, El Aguila, FHA, and the Student Cabinet.

Cindy Hartman's efforts as vice-president of the KYC helped to make this first year organization a success. She was president of DECA, and distinguished herself with a third place state rating for her DE notebook. Cindy was a member of Drama Club, El Aguila, FHA, Brahmettes, Debate and the Student Cabinet. She has participated in one-act play and Powder Puff football. She has further served her school as office assistant.

Who

Steven Haunschild, King High's highest ranking scholar, sang his way to a ten week tour of Europe. An accomplished pianist, organist, cellist, trombonist, he was named to the All State Choir for three years. Active in UIL competition in music, he placed first in state solo. He served as a counselor's assistant and was active in French Club, Drama Club and FTA. His two years in National Honor Society were climaxed when he received the major "K" award for the highest scholastic average of his class. Among his music scholarships was one to Del Mar which accompanied an invitation to sing with the Tuneclippers on a European tour.

Kermit Hodge, outstanding athlete, good leader, excellent student, participated in many phases of campus activity. A three year football letterman, he also played basketball, baseball, and track. He was secretary of the K-Club and for his athletic ability was awarded an athletic scholarship to Adams College. A two year member of the National Honor Society, he also presided over the Kleberg Youth Council, and served on the Student Cabinet, El Aguila, and the Science Club.

Kenneth Horton presided over the Student Cabinet when the president transferred, over the local chapter of Future Farmers of America, over the area FFA as vice-president. He started the year with active participation in the KYC for which he was Teen Impact's original disc jockey. He also attended the Attorney General's Youth Conference in Austin and served his school as counselor assistant.

Patty Johnson served three years on the Student Cabinet once as Sophomore Class President and once as Senior Class President. She was active in the Kleberg Youth Council, Brahm-ettes, and SPQR. Three years she debated and this year she represented KHS in UIL debate competition. She won a scholarship from the Rotary Club in a four way speaking contest.

Sandy Johnson led the Brahma band as drum major, and she led in an all-student election to become the KHS Homecoming Queen. She served as a Brahm-ette and for three years as an office assistant. Active in the band, she was twirler one year and drum major two. Sandy was a three year member of the Student Cabinet, once as Sophomore Class Vice-President and once as Senior Class Vice-President.

Who

Daryl Koenig distinguished himself as salutatorian of his class for which he received a scholarship to the church related school of his choice. As an honor student, he was in National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. He was also active in FTA, Drama Club, SPQR, Press Club, and El Toro. He served as a counselor's assistant, president of the band and was awarded a spot on the All State band. He represented KHS in UIL Boy's Prose Reading.

Who's

Mike McCormick served King High as Managing Editor of the Brahma Round-Up. His long hours of publications work were rewarded by a merit scholarship from the Corpus Christi Press Club. He originated the column Trail Dust and advanced to regional in UIL journalism competition. His scholastic achievement was recognized with a major "K" and a two year membership in National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. He also participated in band, orchestra, Drama Club, debate, and KYC.

Paul Eugene McLean is better known as Sandy. To climax many years of music participation in band, chorus, and orchestra, he was, this year, given the John Philip Sousa award as the outstanding band student. A two year member of National Honor Society, he also served on the Student Cabinet, at Boy's State and reigned as the 65-66 FHA Sweetheart.

Carolyn Pack is looking here at her favorite illustration in Descant, King High's first literary magazine, which she edited. She was both a reporter and feature editor of the Brahma Round-Up. President of the Drama Club, she acted in many high school plays. She further served as a Brahmette, counselor's assistant. Carolyn belonged to SPQR and FHA, and this year advanced to regional in Girl's Prose Reading. A National Honor Society member, she received a major "K" award for her scholastic achievement.

Yolanda Soliz was a terrific Brahma cheerleader, representing her school in many out-of-town games as well as in town games. She represented KHS as Lantana Lady and Homecoming princess. Secretary-treasurer of the senior class, she was active in the Student Cabinet, El Aguila, and FHA. She also played Powder Puff football.

Who

Marilyn Weeks received the Crisco Award as the outstanding homemaking student of the year. A four year FHA member, she served as President this year. She has further served KHS as an office assistant, Student Cabinet member, KYC member, and Powder Puff participant. She served the community as a Candy Striper.

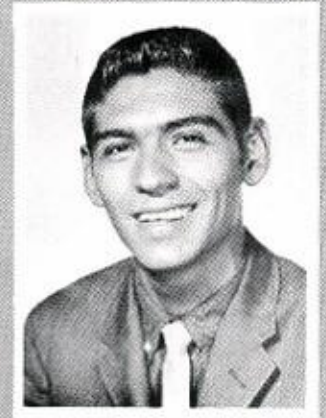

Cheerleaders: All Spirit; All

With a lusty yell and a ready smile, the cheerleaders headed the Brahma fans through another year of sports.

Selling ribbons every week and practicing every day, they took time to organize a Brahma Backers Club to make and hang signs, and to decorate goal posts.

Whether the team won or lost, they backed them all the way and welcomed all competitors. Regardless of weather problems, they eagerly led the cheers and kept spirits high.

For his generosity, talent, dedication, and for his great help, the cheerleaders would like to express their gratitude to Mike Garza. He dedicated much of his spare time from college to design the giant Brahma signs for the football games this year.

Daryl Koenig, committee chairman, discusses student directory plans with Mr. Robert Bupp and Mrs. Nancy Babbitt, sponsors. The student directories were sold by the Student Cabinet in an effort to raise money for a Brahma banner.

Leadership changed hands when President Johnny Wooley moved to Houston at mid-semester. Here he hands the gavel to Kenneth Horton, new Student Cabinet President.

Toni Brimage, standing, Barbara Patzig, and Ricky Bridgers pack food which the Student Cabinet gathered at Christmas time to send to soldiers in Viet Nam.

Student Cabinet Year

In addition to the projects pictured, the Student Cabinet undertook the task of washing windows to raise funds for a foreign exchange student.

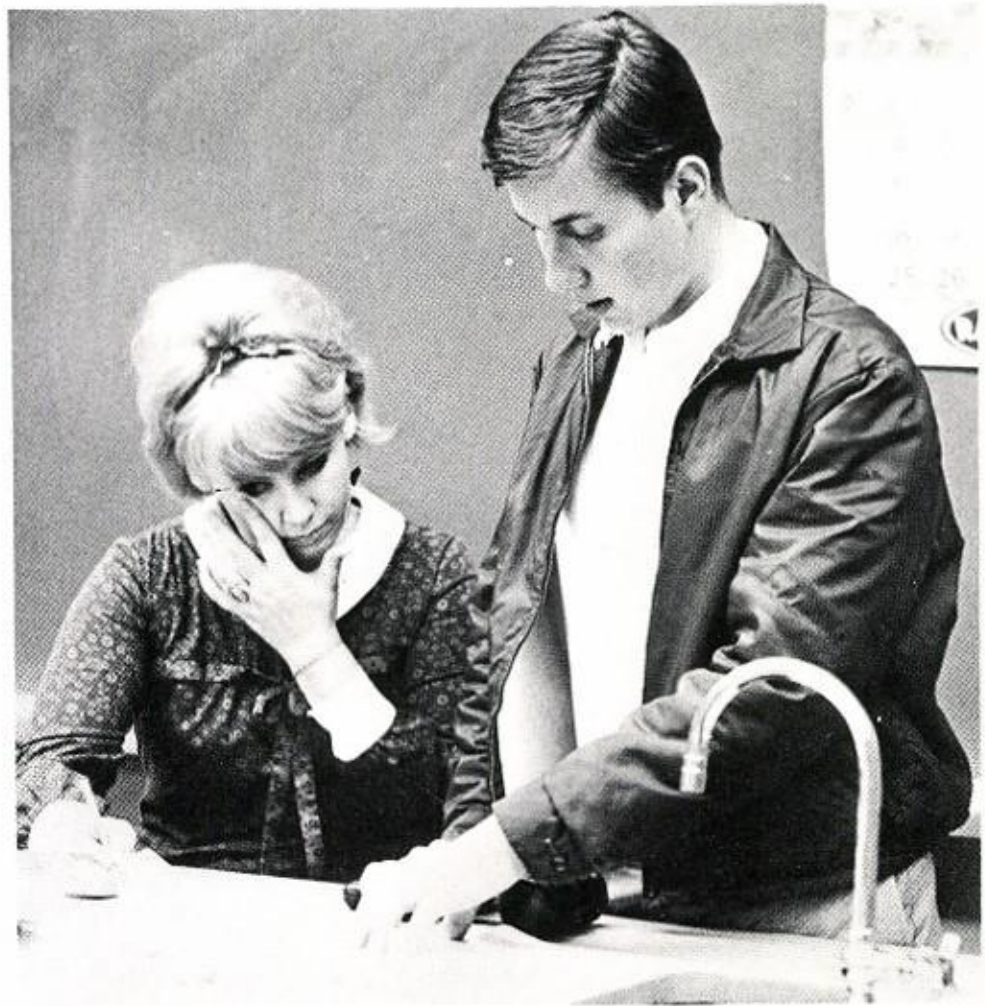

A tradition began with King High's first Career Day. Guests from various professions spoke about future careers for King High students.

At the Richard King football game, the parents of the varsity football players were introduced. A Parents' Day dance was held afterwards.

A book consisting of all King High club constitutions was made by Cabinet members and is now available in the school library.

Student talent was displayed at another Cabinet project—the "Shindig", with the new name of "Beat '66".

The Cabinet's last project of the year was a Literary Banquet which was held for UIL contestants, Cabinet members, and UIL coaches.

Sandy Johnson, Mrs. Babbitt, Sandra Knight, Kathy Ireland, Miss Parman, Kenneth Horton, and Johnny Wooley discuss plans at one of the homecoming committee's meetings.

Miss Olita Parman, sponsor, listens to suggestions at a monthly meeting.

The Brahma Round-Up, the student newspaper, is written and produced by the journalism classes. This year for the first time an advanced journalism class was responsible for interpretive writing, editing, and production.

Reporting was done by the first year journalism class which is organized by the beat system whereby each student is responsible for news gathering from certain clubs, and/or departments. The Brahma Round-Up is published sixteen times a year and is supported through student activity fee and advertising.

Highlight FHA Year

Robert Campbell, Camille Lemmond, Sammy Smith, Ann Swan, and Susie Dunegan admire the oriental decorations at the FHA Ball held in February.

Beautiful music . . . Soft lights—all combine to make the FHA Ball one that Rhonda Copeland and Jeff Ficklin evidently seem to be enjoying.

FHA girls work through home economics to prepare for a better home for today and future.

The year began with a splash, the "Surfer Stomp." At a city wide meeting Mrs. J. C. Jernigan spoke, and in December homemaking classes baked for the department's first open house.

Chapter Sweethearts were presented at the Annual Sweetheart Ball by an orientally dressed Cindy Hartman, mistress of ceremonies. Kitty Neve won the Betty Crocker Award.

At the Area IV meeting held in Jones Auditorium, Claudia Harrel was elected Area X treasurer.

FFA Members Develop Agricultural Skills

The King High Chapter FFA has had a very active year. The Green Hand boys and Chapter Farmers have placed highly in contests held throughout the year. In an essay writing contest, six boys won heifers to raise, feed, and sell. Members traveled to the San Antonio Livestock Show and Rodeo in early February.

FFA Week, February 19-26, was observed by the Chapter through farm demonstrations, displays, and radio broadcasts.

In April, various members took part in the Kleberg County Livestock Show, at which they sold and demonstrated farm animals.

Two boys, Joe Sam Garcia and Ernest Wernecke, qualified this year for State Farmer, a divisional rating topped only by the rank of American Farmer.

The Sweetheart of the club, Margaret Rabon, Senior, was elected representative to the FFA Coastal Bend District in area competition in May.

Ralph Ferguson, one of the three excited finalists in the Powder Puff Queen contest, hugs Andy Salinas. Andy Rodriguez, our 1966-67 Powder Puff Queen, looks on with rapture and envy in his face.

The K-Club Sweethearts are Patty Johnson and Barbie Rosse.

The K-Club Student Cabinet Representative John Atterbury presented Ralph Ferguson, second runner up in the Powder Puff Queen contest, with a bouquet of fragrant blossoms.

Mrs. Vidaurri stands by with a paper bag as Kermit Hodge, Youth Council President, helps Thomas Arthur, Roldan Gutierrez, and Steven Leggett sack up the food which the boys' team gathered for needy families' Thanksgiving dinners.

Youth Takes Action

During FHA Week, Mike McCormick, guest disc jockey for the Teen Impact radio show, interviews FHA President Marilyn Weeks at the program held on location.

Before forming the Kleberg Youth Council, seventeen students attended the Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime in Austin.

The first assembly of the school year was presented Oct. 21 to introduce the organization and its goals. Included in the assembly were two skits explaining the teen jury system and the Teen Impact radio show.

In Nov., KYC members challenged students with a Thanksgiving canned food drive. To get more participation, the girls competed with the boys.

Throughout the year, members were working toward one big project, the Kleberg Youth Conference on Crime. The purpose of the Council—to inform today's youth of their problems and how to solve them.

Yea or nay on selling book covers was the topic for this meeting.

FTA Faces A Future Career

In an advanced world, trained people are needed to train them and FTA is helping to train students to become good teachers.

Members sold book covers and also attended the District Convention this year.

OFFICERS: President, Mary Davis; Vice-president, Ellen Fein; Secretary, Beth Walters; Historian, Nancy Lehmann; Student Cabinet Representative, Daryl Koenig; Treasurer, Lupita Cavazos; Parliamentarian, Teri O'Shea;
MEMBERS: Jan Anderson, Thomas Arthur, Garold Brooks, Gloria Canales, John Connor, Janie Cuellar, Dora Garcia, Esther Garcia, Rachel Garza, Yvonne Garza, Susan Hayes, Steven Haunschild, Lynette Hausler, Camille Lemmond, Edna Longoria, Angela Lopez, Pat Lowrie, Nancy Messimer, Joyce Pennington, Jerry Pritchett, Anita Pena, Phyllis Rodman, Connie Torres, Phyllis Wilson, Suzanne Young.

Thomas Arthur, vice-president, looks through a supply catalog.

At Science Club meetings, members viewed filmstrips about chemical engineering and heard about the work of the Naval Weather Station. The club also heard guests speak about the Humble Refining Plant and the Chemistry Department at Texas A&I College.

In the South Texas Science and Math Congress, Jack Fisher won a second place with his project, "Can a Sea Anemone Adapt to a Change in Environment?"

Science Club Members Learn From Speakers, Projects, Films

Mrs. Ethel Bogusch, sponsor, Jan Anderson, secretary, Judy Wilson, president, and Mr. Massey Brand, sponsor, pause while making plans for the next Science Club meeting.

Debateurs Get The Point Across

Steven Leggett argues "The government should prohibit the requirement of union membership ..."

Sandy Horton, Ellen Fein, and Chuck Auld show Thomas Arthur how he can use a quote in his constructive speech.

Five debate teams have worked since fall on the question for this year: "Resolved: the Federal Government should prohibit the requirement of union membership as a condition of employment."

The debaters have spent much time participating in various tournaments, gathering quotes, statistics, and facts to tie in to the affirmative and negative cases, and practice-debating with each other. This was done in preparation for the UIL debate contest, in which two teams participated.

Latin Club members patiently await the arrival of Mrs. Dorothy Rhode, club sponsor, to begin their monthly meeting. At this meeting Barbie Rosse, Thomas Arthur, John Connor, Jerry Pritchett, Sally Foster, Keith Rives, Mary Margaret Fox, Daryl Koenig, and Judy Wilson saw fellow members enact the rituals of a Roman wedding.

Banquet Highlights Latin Club Year

"What am I bid for this superb piece of merchandise?" asks slave auctioneer Daryl Koenig. Slaves went to bids of cracker wrappings, plastic grapes, and fattened oxen at the auction.

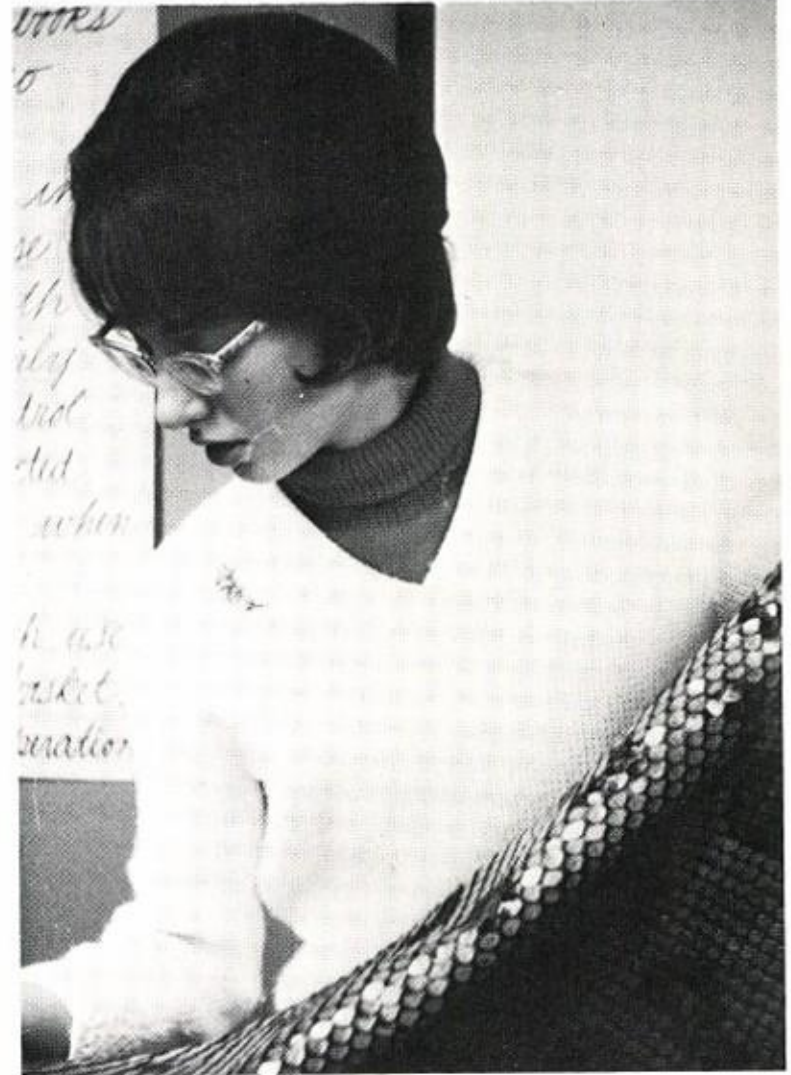

Highlighting the Latin Club year were a Roman marriage skit and the annual Ides of March banquet held on March 18.

At the banquet Batmanus and the Virginian battled it out to the end in "A Roman Western" (or, if you prefer, "A Western Roman") skit. Jason fought his battle with the sleepy dragon for possession of the golden fleece. This skit was done in Latin with such outstanding lines as "Vellis aureum non est wollum! Est orolum!" translated as "The golden fleece is not wool! It's Orlon!" Members also took the traditional "A Trip Through Roman History." First year Latin students were sold and second year were liberated from Latin as slaves.

Spanish Club Members Travel By Films

A tray decorated with butterfly wings arouses the interest of Juan Garcia, Jack Fisher, and Hector Garcia while Carolyn Stiles admires a 21 foot boa constrictor skin from Venezuela. These items were shown by Mr. E. C. Bridgers at one of the typical El Aguila meetings. David Rhode, Miss Mae Dell Schiller, and Carol Austin investigate some old Spanish stirrups. At another club meeting Mr. Armando Salazar grabs a siesta during a film.

Le Cercle Français activities ranged from planned meetings by Mrs. Joanne Baker, sponsor, and Chuck Auld, president, to decking out in costumes for parties like Jacquelyn Tousley.

French Club Features

The annual French-Art club party highlighted activities of Le Cercle Français this year. The theme for the 1965 party was Décembre à Paris, December in Paris.

Other Activities of the club, now in its second year, have been skits in French put on by students, taking the course.

Membership in the club is made up of students taking first and second-year French.

Décembre à Paris

Brahmettes Serve King High

Laura Crosnoe and Jan Steinke make a poster at the UIL District Meet.

Miss Mary Troy, sponsor, and Ellen Fein, president, discuss the Brahmette Constitution.

With courtesy and efficiency, the Brahmettes have represented King High at all official functions.

During the year they have been involved in various activities. Brahmettes helped to open the peanut sale for the March of Dimes. They escorted representatives at the PTA convention and guided the speakers of the first Career Day. Keeping the halls silent was one of their jobs at the UIL District Meet.

Press Club Offers Activities

For Young Journalists

Allan Jones, Mike McCormick, Joel Newton, and Sharon Smith listen closely to the plans being made for the trip to the South Texas Press Day.

Organized this year, the Press Club is open to all students actively engaged in publications work at King High. At monthly meetings, a constitution was written and adopted, and guests lectured on feature writing, radio and television, movie reviewing, newspapering, and other related topics.

At two banquets, one in January and one in May, qualified members were inducted into Quill and Scroll, an honorary organization for high school journalists. In April the group attended the South Texas Press Day in Corpus Christi.

At the Quill and Scroll banquet, Joel Newton eyes another shrimp and wonders if he can snatch it before Rome Pena finishes telling about the trip to the Interscholastic League Press Conference at Austin.

Pat Garcia beams proudly as Mr. Jake Trussell presents her with an award for the best news story of the year in the Brahma Round-Up.

Camera Club Members Learn

Because a number of King High students were interested in photography both as a career and as a hobby, a Camera Club was organized in early fall. At monthly meetings, members adopted a constitution, heard speakers on various aspects of photography, and conducted a three-day after-school workshop on the basic fundamentals of photography. Members gained practical experience by working in the publications darkroom and on special picture taking assignments.

At the photography workshop, guest speaker, Gerald Black, shows Rosalie Chiuminatto, vice-president, the effects which may be achieved by using different camera filters.

New Techniques

Mr. James Ragan, ex-photographer for the El Toro, recalls past experiences at a Camera Club meeting.

The office girls do several important jobs for the administrators. They answer the phones, deliver messages, fill out office calls and absentee slips, pick up attendance slips, and keep lists of absentees, distribute information to teachers by putting it in mail boxes, and even take ill students home when necessary.

Blue Slips, Office Calls,

Marilyn Weeks, Jemele Pederson, and Kitty Walker distribute information to the teachers and fill their boxes.

Lupita Cavazos and Linda Smith add to the list of absentees sixth period.

John Calkins and Luther Garland relax after working as counselor assistants while Carolyn Pack and Kati Bareis continue filing.

Phillip Baker, Howard Goode, and Clint Fergeson straighten the shelves. Ann Scott and Rodney Rice look up from typing.

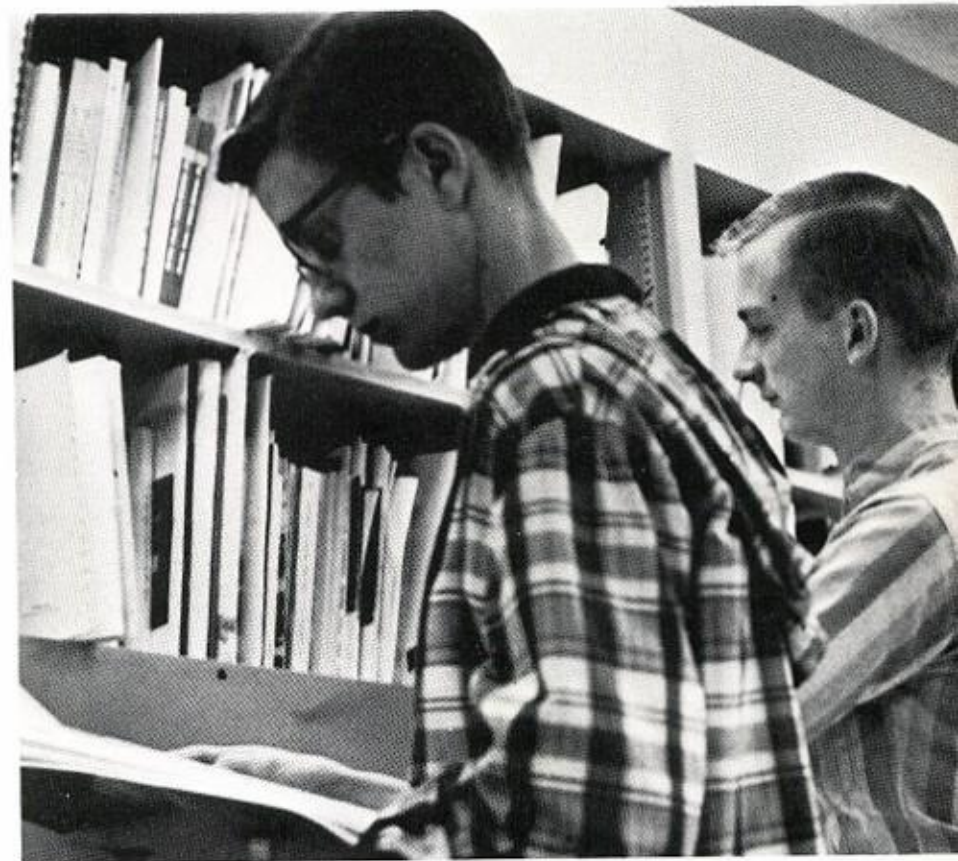

Kenneth Horton supervises Teri O'Shea and Sherry Chesser as they type.

Report Cards, And Schedules

Mary Helen Winkler, Ann Hurst and Cindi Ryon relax in Miss Mary Troy's office after an hour of work.

Daryl Koenig and Steven Haunschild look through the available material for college entrance.

Virginia Casanova, Miss Rubye Russell, and Mrs. Penny Walters look for back issues of magazines in shelves reserved for previous years' articles.

Books! Books! Books!

The library club members include all the school's student librarians. These students must maintain a C+ average and cannot miss more than three meetings without being dismissed.

Miss Rubye Russell is the club sponsor. Meetings are held at lunch once a month. There the members discuss money-making plans for a district meeting to be held at King High in November of 1966.

OFFICERS: President, Dora Garcia; Vice-President, Linda Eshom; Secretary, Loma Brown; Reporter, Yvonne Espinosa; KYC Representative, Yvonne Espinosa; Student Council Representative, Sherry Foust.

Distributive Education Provides

Useful Training

Distributive Education is a program of instruction in merchandising, marketing, and management for high school. It offers vocational training in the various fields of goods and services which can later lead to occupations in retailing, advertising, financing, transportation, manufacturing, storing, and wholesaling.

D.E. helps qualified students to work part time and receive valuable on-the-job training in an appropriate occupation.

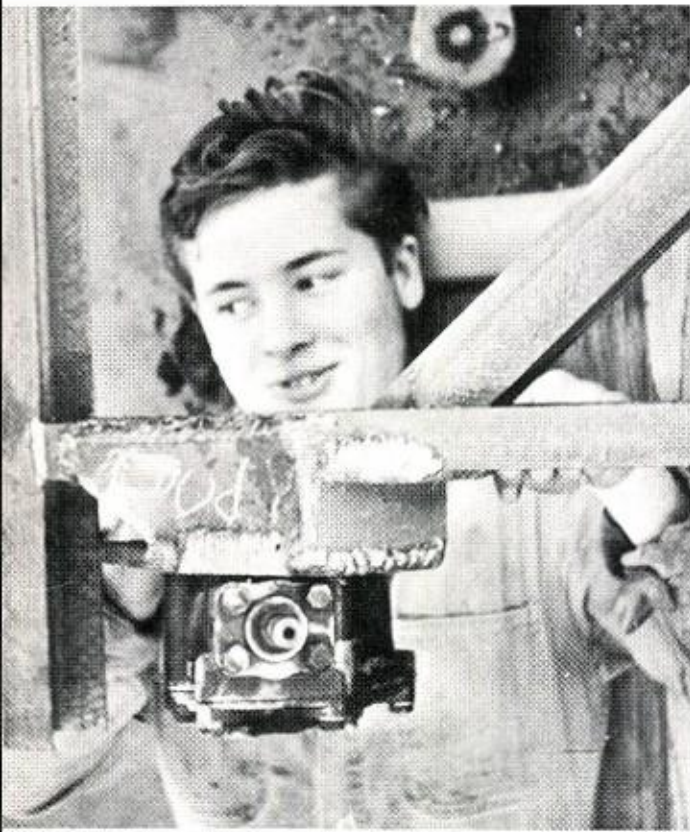

The two classes of D.E. combine each year and form a club that is affiliated with DECA, the Distributive Education Clubs of America. In this club, the students elect officers and a sweetheart, have breakfast meetings and attend state and national conventions.

OFFICERS: Pres., Cindy Hartman; Vice-Pres., Diana Colin; Sec., Adriana Chapa; Treas., Anita Pena; Rep., Nancy Shafer; Student Cabinet Rep., Aurelio Gonzalez; Hist. and Sweetheart, Sue Terry.

Daniel Romero uses a valve spring compressor to grind some valves.

Auto mechanics is a vocational class designed to give students a working knowledge of automobile mechanics. The projects vary from minor tune-ups and replacing brake shoes to complete engine overhauls. This year the boys have built a rear-engined beach buggy that will be used to chase parts for the various projects.

Mr. Ed McLean, instructor, explains to Johnnie Bartow how to adjust the distributor.

Building Trades Members

Building Trades is one of several courses designed to give students practical experience in vocational applications. The course gives students experience in the purchase of building materials, rough construction, general plumbing, electrical work, brick laying, and building inspection.

Building Trades also offers participants social activities such as barbecues, parties, and dances. Most of the boys are members of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, where they elect officers and participate in competition with members from other schools. These contests enable students to display their building skills.

Rolando Garza, Vice-President, shows Mr. Roland Smith where he will drill a hole for some electrical wiring.

Mr. Tom Stuchberry, the new King High Brahma Band director, works hard to maintain the KHS performance quality.

This year the Brahma Band received a first division rating in inspection and a second division rating in marching at the annual Region 14 marching contest in Robstown in November. In April at UIL contest at Del Mar, the band earned a first division in concert and a second division in sight reading.

As usual the Brahma Band presented their half-time show at football games, performed for the student body throughout the year, and presented an annual Spring Concert.

Extra Work Is Rewarded

The people who try out for District, Region, and Area Bands go through a rough ordeal at each level. They must play specific scales, prepared music, and sight-reading material before a judge. Composure, ability, and nerves of steel are virtually indispensable assets of the contestants. State Band Contestants compete with prepared music only.

This year's King High Orchestra played for six civic clubs in Kingsville, the District PTA Convention, and the Christmas assembly.

When the Orchestra competed in the Region XIV contest eighteen KHS students won positions, nine of which were first chairs.

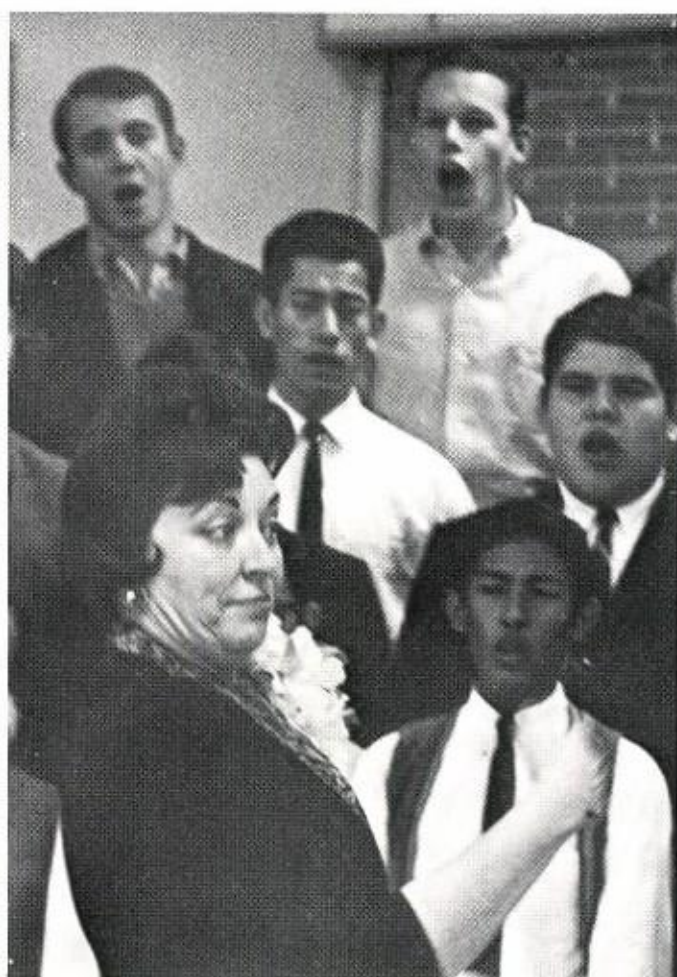

Three KHS students tried out for the All-State Orchestra and won seats in the Dallas All-State Concert.

The KHS String Orchestra won a first division at UIL contest.

Hard Work Pays

Selections from "The Seven Last Words Of Christ" were sung at the Easter program by Byon Vaughn, Kitty Walker, Ada Marie Godley, and Steven Haunschild.

Twenty-seven members of the KHS Choir made the trip to Region XIV Choir contest in Corpus Christi in October. Singing is not only for the contest rooms but for the bus ride all the way over and all the way back, as demonstrated by Jack Beauchamp.

Mrs. Wiley directed an informal program of singing of Christmas carols in the cafeteria before the holidays.

Betty Kay Cureton sang selections from "The Messiah" at the Easter program. The piece requires concentration and is deeply moving.

"... A bicycle built for two" doesn't agree with Connie, but it is all Tony could afford in "Signs Of Spring".

"... The Princess was in the kitchen baking some cherry tarts" while the choir sang the tale of "Sing A Song Of Sixpence."

Off - Sweepstakes Again

"Signs Of Spring" also include sports and "Take Me Out To the Ball Game". Coach Leach was up to bat in his new Brahma uniform, complete with tiger tail.

This year's sweepstakes King High A Capella Choir began the year by winning the largest number of chairs at the Region XIV Choir competition. These twenty-seven students from KHS performed in the January concert. Eight All-State Choir candidates were also named then. Seven of the eight performed in the All-State Concert in Dallas in February.

In March the choir won the Sweepstakes Award at UIL Choir competition at Del Mar.

Another high honor to befall the choir was the acceptance of Gary Ryan into the U.S. Choir.

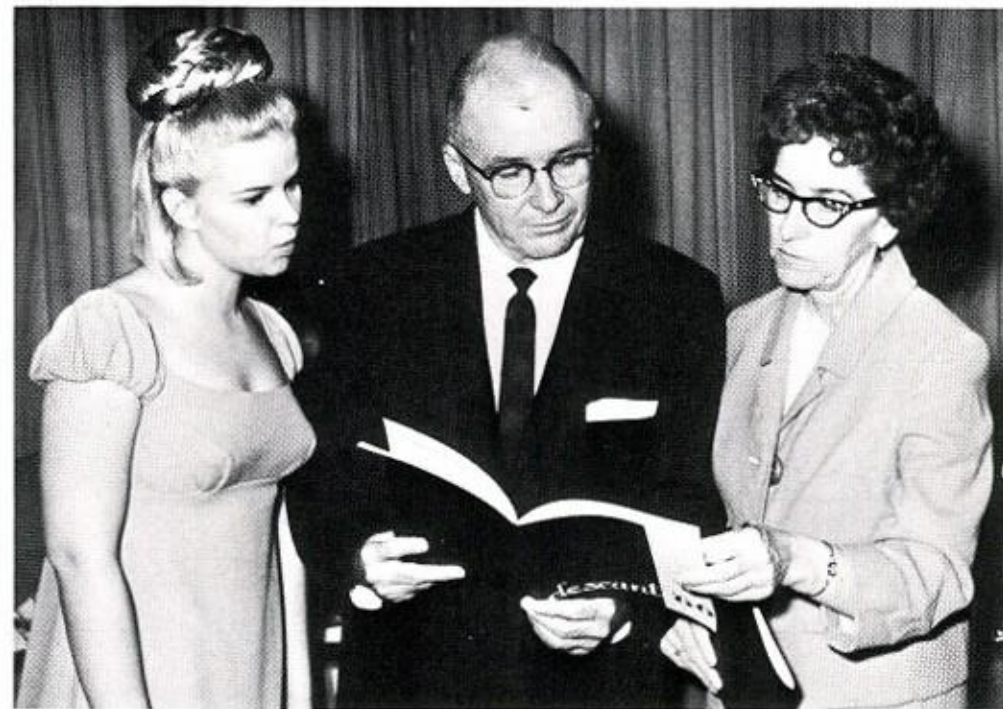

The sixty-member choir is under the direction of Mrs. Millicent Wiley.

Bartenders Carmen Garza, Allan Jones, and Jose Rivera serve "Vodka" (really it's just Sprite!) at the French-Art Club party.

With class projects, trips to the art gallery, prop building, and lending an artistic hand to other school organizations, the Art Club had a full year.

A set of stained glass windows which were used in the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies was designed and painted. Along with the French Club, a "December in Paris" party was held, complete with sidewalk cafes, candlelight, and floor shows.

In the spring, senior students entered the Hallmark "Help Freedom Grow" art contest. The new second year art class created several large paintings, collages, stitcheries, and plaster casts, to hang in various rooms around the school.

The year was complete with an art exhibit and sale of all the students' work.

Eagles Squeeze By Brahmas

A well balanced Brownsville Eagle's team defeated the King High Brahmas in the first regular game of the year. Brownsville, led by Ceasar de la Garza, wingback, took advantage of several King High mistakes. The Brahmas took the lead in the second quarter, but held it only temporarily, as de la Garza caught an 80 yd. touchdown pass to tie the game as the half ended.

In the second half, de la Garza returned a punt 70 yds. for another score. The extra point try was good. The Bulls scored again with 1:36 left to play, but the try for the extra points failed. The final score was Eagles 13, Brahmas 12.

Bulls Slaughter Jerseys

Platoon play enabled the Kingsville Brahmas to smother the Falfurrias Jerseys. Nearly all the Brahmas backs shared in the scoring, as the Jerseys never got started. The platoon play helped Coach Bill Denman to keep his charges rested.

To start the second half, Buile Vela, returned the kickoff 88 yds. for the only Falfurrias score. Brahma scores came on a pass from Andy Salinas to James Lenard; a one yard plunge by Andy; a left end sweep by Henry Davis; a pass by Kermit Hodge to Ralph Ferguson; and an intercepted pass which Ralph ran back for a score. Jimmy Kempf kicked two extra points and Robert Gadd ran two points. The final score was Kingsville 41, Falfurrias 6.

Coyotes Trip Bulls

Brahma spirit came to a high point during the last game.

For the first time since 1959, the Alice Coyotes, led by Bitsy Garcia, defeated the King High Brahmas. Alice, district champs, led the Bulls throughout the game, scoring three times in the first half. The first score of the game came in the first quarter, when Alice drove 76 yds. After a fumble recovery the Coyotes scored again. A bad snap from center provided the third score for the Coyotes.

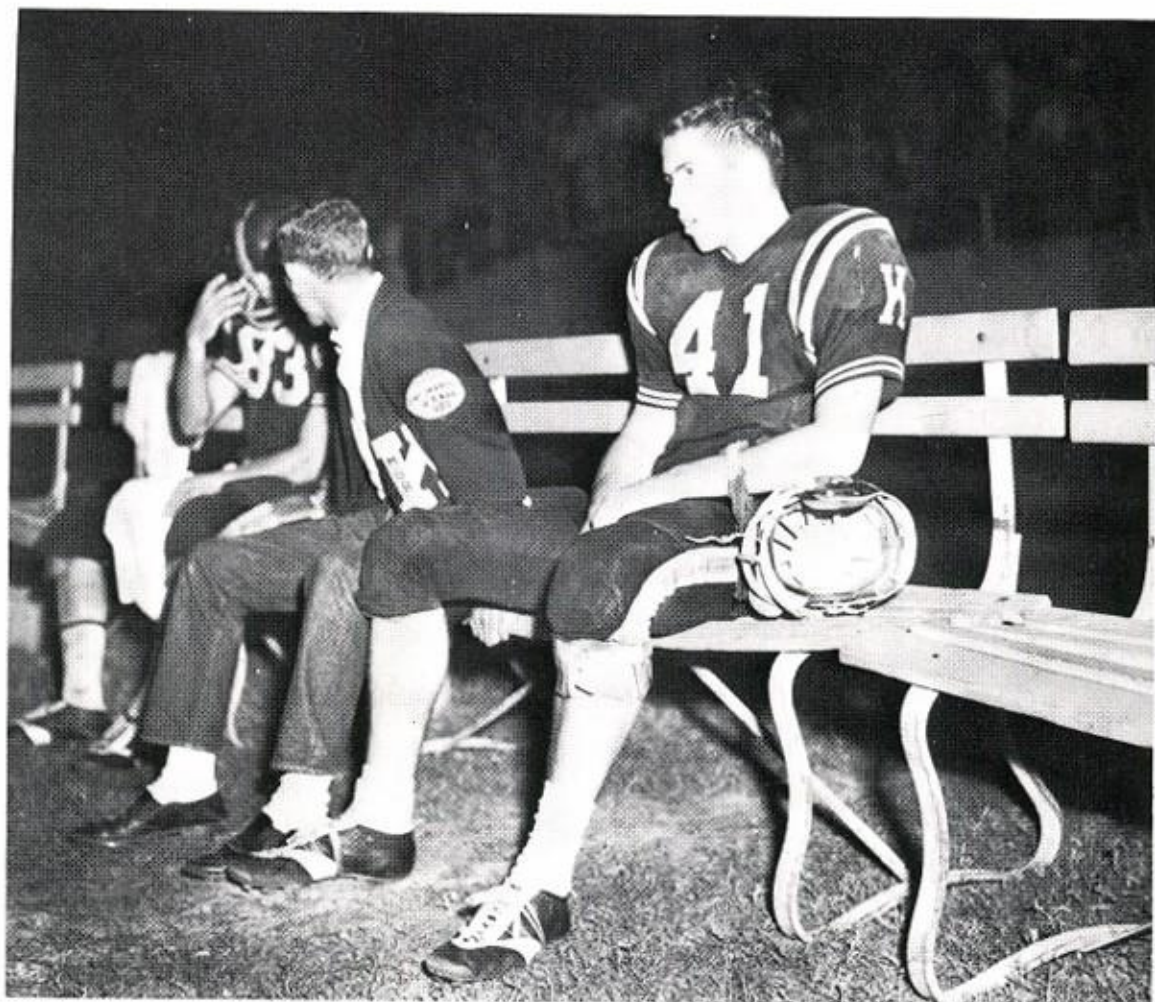

In the second half, the Bulls came back with a 58 yd. drive, climaxed by a pass from a pitchout to Kermit Hodge, who threw to quarterback Andy Salinas. Salinas scored for the Bulls. Alice retaliated with a long drive for a score by Garcia from 20 yds. out bringing about the final score, 24-6.

Brahmas Win Homecoming

Rain and a muddy field slowed the Brahmas during Homecoming as they edged past a good San Benito Greyhound team, with the score of 6-0.

Several times the Bulls had an opportunity to score, but fumbles, which were common because of the rain, spoiled their chances.

The game was climaxed with the presentation of the queen at half time. Sandy Johnson, senior, was crowned Homecoming Queen.

Bulls Stun Cardinals

The King High Brahmas proved many sportswriters wrong by defeating the Harlingen Cardinals 21-12.

Harlingen, who was favored, scored first on a 75-yard drive. The extra point failed. Kermit Hodge then threw a pass to Ralph Ferguson to set up the first Brahma score. The extra point was good and the half ended 7-6.

On the first play of the second half, Kermit threw a long pass covering 74 yds. to Henry Davis for the second Brahma score. Jimmy Kempf's kick for the extra point was good. The Brahmas added another score when Gilbert Reyes intercepted a Cardinal pass and ran it back for a touchdown. The Cardinals scored again before the game ended.

Bucs Outlast Brahmas

The Miller Buccaneers wore down the battling Brahmas in the first district game for both teams.

Miller managed only a 10-7 half-time lead over the determined Brahmas forces. The second half proved to be very exciting too. The score remained 10-7 until the final minutes of the game. Charles Williams, Buc half-back, provided the Bucs with their winning margin, by scoring one touchdown and setting up another, all within 37 seconds. Williams alone gained 189 yards rushing. The final score was Miller 22, Kingsville 7.

Stingarees Crush Bulls

The Kingsville Brahmas suffered their second district defeat at the hands of the Victoria Stingarees. Victoria, led by Louis Thompson, proved to be too much for the Brahmas. The first time they got the ball they managed to score for a 6-0 lead. A fumble recovery by James Smith set up the first Bull touchdown. It enabled the Bulls to hold the lead momentarily, 7-6. However, before the half ended, Victoria managed two touchdowns for a 22-7 half-time lead.

In the third quarter, Victoria scored again for a 30-7 lead. Then the Brahma running game suddenly came alive in the fourth quarter. Kermit Hodge lateraled to Ralph Ferguson for a 20 yard play, good for a touchdown. Later in the quarter, Henry Davis made a spectacular 89 yard run for a score. This ended the scoring as the Bulls lost 30-19.

Bulls Tame Tigers

The King High Brahmas squeezed by the Carroll Tigers for their first district victory of the season. The victory passed a precedent in King High football as it was the first time since 1933 that the Bulls had managed a football victory in Buc Stadium.

Three times the Bulls were deep in Tiger territory, but managed to score only once. This came on a pass from halfback Gary Carley to end Filomeno Benavides. The Tigers later managed to score themselves on a pass to Jimmy Taylor. A penalty nullified the two point conversion, and a second attempt at a kick was no good. The final score was Brahmas 7, Carroll 6.

As time runs out, the scoreboard shows Kingsville ahead 7-6 in the Carroll game.

Texans Cut To Size By Bulls

Two come-from-behind touchdowns enabled the Bulls to roll over W. B. Ray.

Ray scored early in the first quarter on an 18-yard run by Mike Blaine, providing the Texans with a 7-0 lead. In the second quarter, however, Robert Cumberland recovered a Texan fumble on the Ray 19. Ralph Ferguson scored a few plays later and then added the two point conversion for an 8-7 lead.

Late in the fourth quarter, the Brahmas offense once again began rolling. The Bulls drove 87 yards for their last touchdown. This was accomplished by a pass to end Gilbert Reyes. Ferguson again scored the extra two point conversion, providing the Brahmas with their 16-7 victory.

Bulls Break Mustangs

The Kingsville Brahmas ended the season in grand style. The Bulls defeated Corpus Christi King 13-0 to finish in third place in the North Zone standings. This marked the first time that Kingsville had held a Corpus Christi school scoreless.

The first score of the game came in the first quarter when Gary Carley plunged over the goal line from the one-yard line. In the final period, Kermit Hodge threw a 19-yard scoring pass to Filomeno Benavides to end the scoring in the game played in Javelina Stadium.

Kermit Hodge prepares to hand the ball to Ralph Ferguson during the last game of the season.

Calves

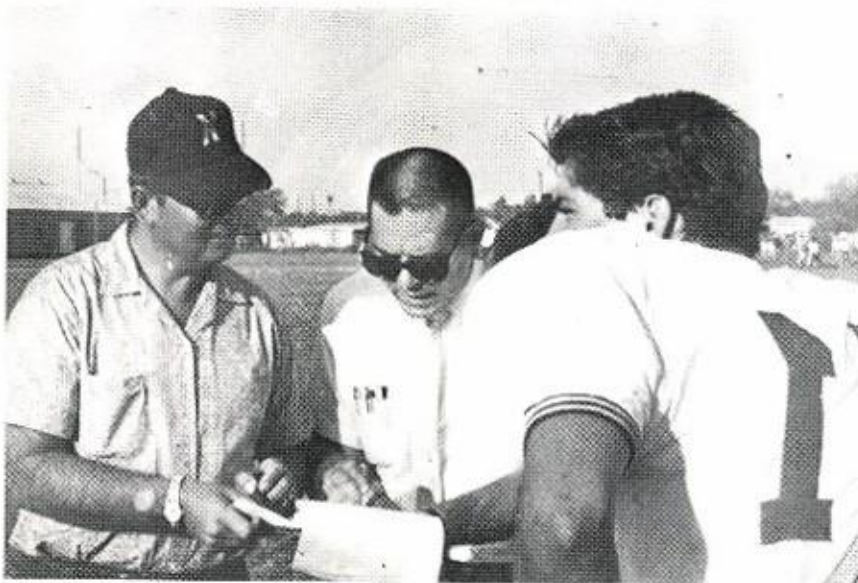

B-Team Coach Bob Leach watches game closely.

The future Brahmas, the calves, got off to a slow start but toward the end of the season they were playing excellent ball. Coached by Bob Leach and Nano Ortiz, the calves managed a 4-5 season record. Beaten by the calves were schools such as Corpus Christi King (twice), Corpus Christi Academy, and Carroll.

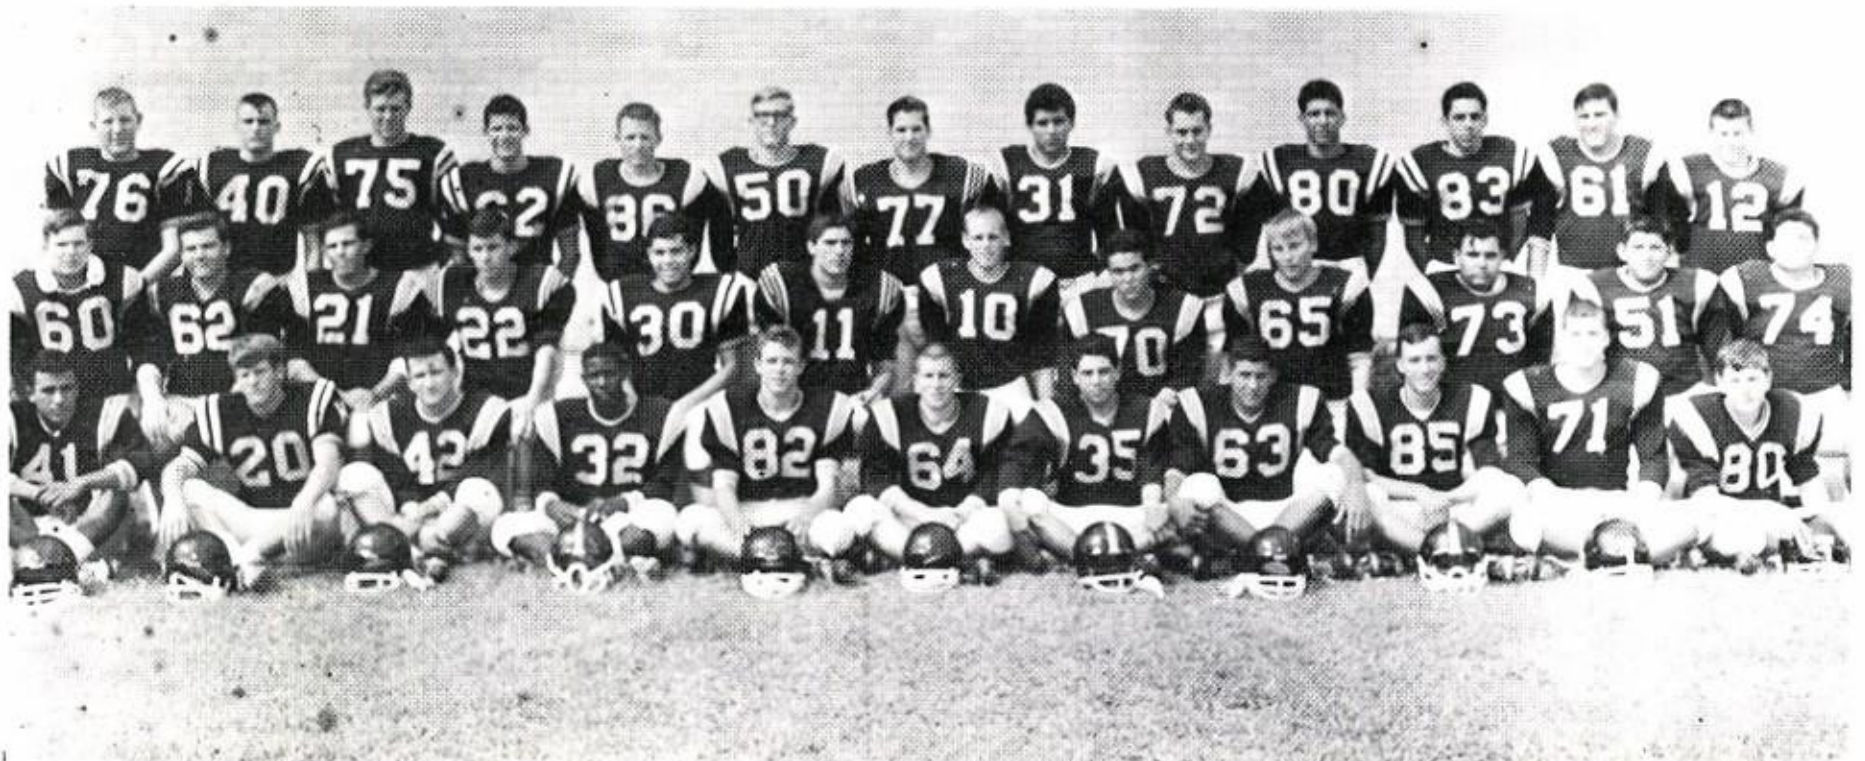

They lost to Corpus Christi Miller, Ray, Victoria, Sinton, and Alice. Probably their greater satisfaction came when they beat the Corpus Christi King junior varsity by the score of 46-0. Most of the boys playing with the Calves this season will move up and play with the Brahmas next season, giving an indication for a good Brahma team for next year.

Slow Start Fast Finish

B-team Coaches Nano Ortiz and Bob Leach discuss game plans.

Back row: Christopher Genz, Dennis Thompson, Ralph Keck, Brad Roberts, Paul Lenard, Marcus Cave, Billy Fielder, Homer Alaniz, E. W. Franklin, Luis Nava, Alonzo Lopez, Huberto Arispe, and Gary Smith.
Middle row: Chuck Wagner, Michael Dunn, Ronald Knocke, Freddy Edgerton, Andy Rodriguez, Albert Gamez, Forrest Finley, Roel Vasquez, Byon Vaughn, Alfredo Zapata, Pete Garcia, and Gaspar Hinojosa.

The Brahma Basketball team got off to a good start this year, but they were somewhat slowed down by the middle of the season.

The Bull Cagers went into the district battle with high hopes. They were, however, disappointed as they managed only one victory in district competition, coming at the very last game of the season.

The Cagers never lost their sportsmanship and ambition, however, as every game was played with great desire.

Juniors Work Up

Board Witnesses Graduation

Superintendent John Gillett

The Board of Education working diligently, quietly, with little compensation for a better school system, is seldom seen by King High students except at Commencement time when they are publicly recognized as honored platform guests. In the picture above Mr. Richard Westbrook, Mrs. Andy Cook, Mr. Leo Perez, Mr. Bob Hope, Mr. Eugene Rogers, Mr. Al Garza, members of the Board and Dr. Dan Proctor commencement speaker, witness graduation exercises. Mr. Nick Harrel is not pictured.

Jefe Sez

Today, many of us are waiting for a public announcement that the old world is dead and that a new world will take its place. Few of us realize that the future is now. There is no line separating the present and the future. In the present we have the dying echoes and memories of the past and the first loud cries of the future.

Mr. Paul F. Jones, Principal

Mr. Elmer R. Holland, Assistant Principal

Work, Work, Work

Miss Mary Troy, counselor, guides students, helps them decide about classes at pre-registration, and keeps things straight at registration.

Mrs. Dottie Trefflich, secretary, prepares records and helps with registration.

Mrs. Thelma Peterson, registrar, pauses while typing a transcript. As registrar she also keeps records straight, sends out transcripts for seniors, issues permits to leave school, and acts as general hostess.

Mrs. Alta Pierce, nurse, prepares for her next patient. While serving as nurse for 1000 students and many teachers she administers TB patch tests, first aid, and ear and eye tests.

Faculty Frolics

Principal Paul Jones and his secretary Mrs. Dottie Trefflich make a bow for office Christmas decorations.

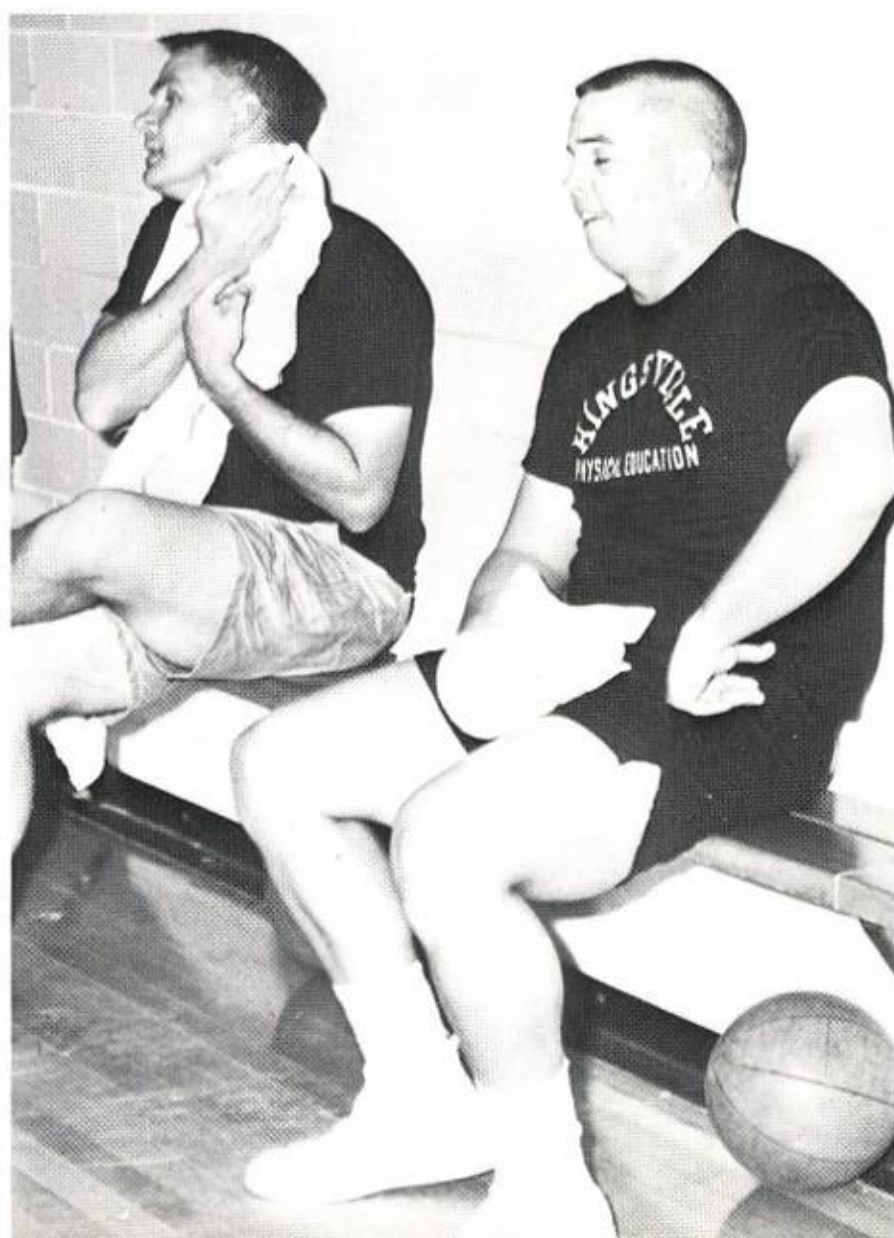

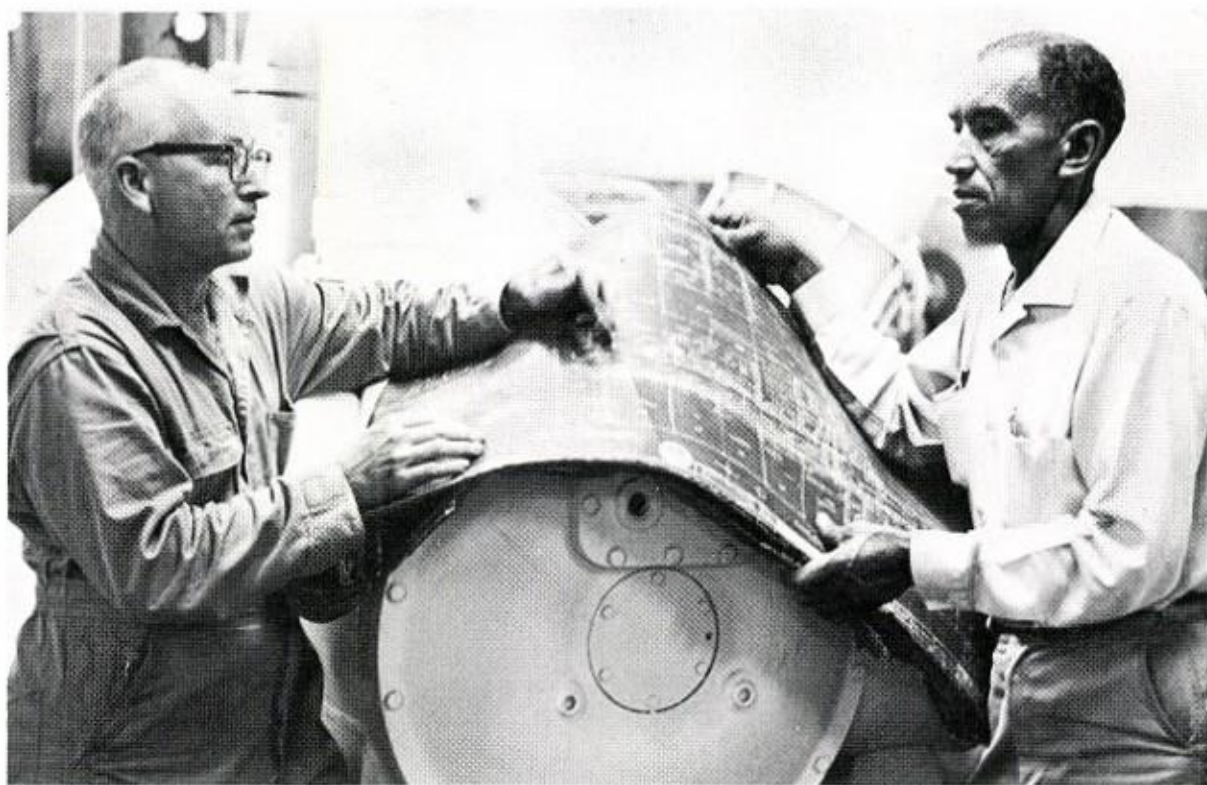

"I want a bicycle for Christmas," longed Mrs. Nancy Babbitt, and that's exactly what her students gave her. Here she is getting a little help from Forrest Finley and Robert Gadd.

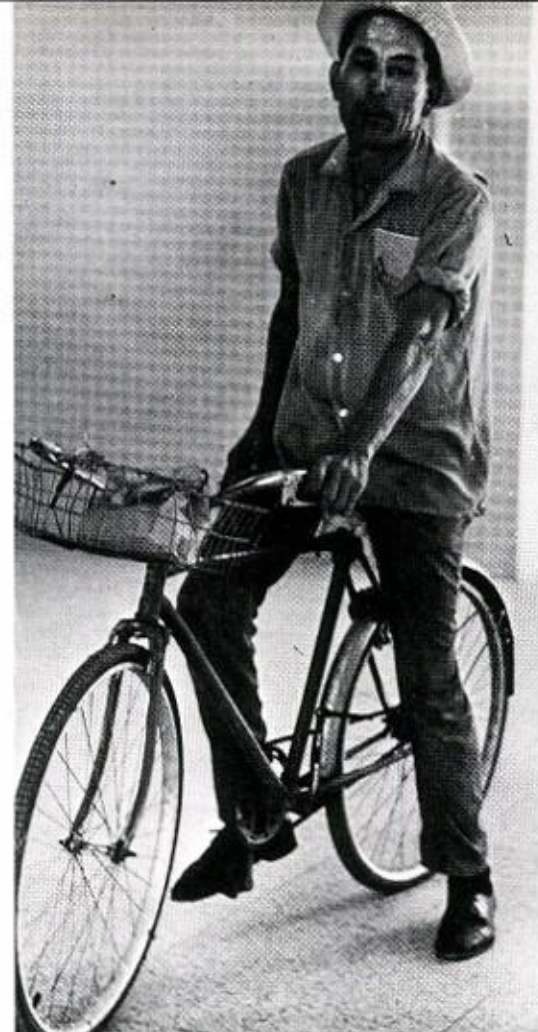

Even Santa knows that Miss Clara Blackwell has been a good girl.

"Whew! I'm tired, but I'm not going to let those senior boys know it," sighs Coach Ronnie Johnson at the senior-faculty game, while Coach Bill Denman mops away the evidence of his exhaustion.

Mr. Hardy Aldridge, Chief Engineer, and Mr. C. O. Cavazos, Head Custodian, check over maintenance maps of the school's heating and air-conditioning systems.

Our Unsung Heros

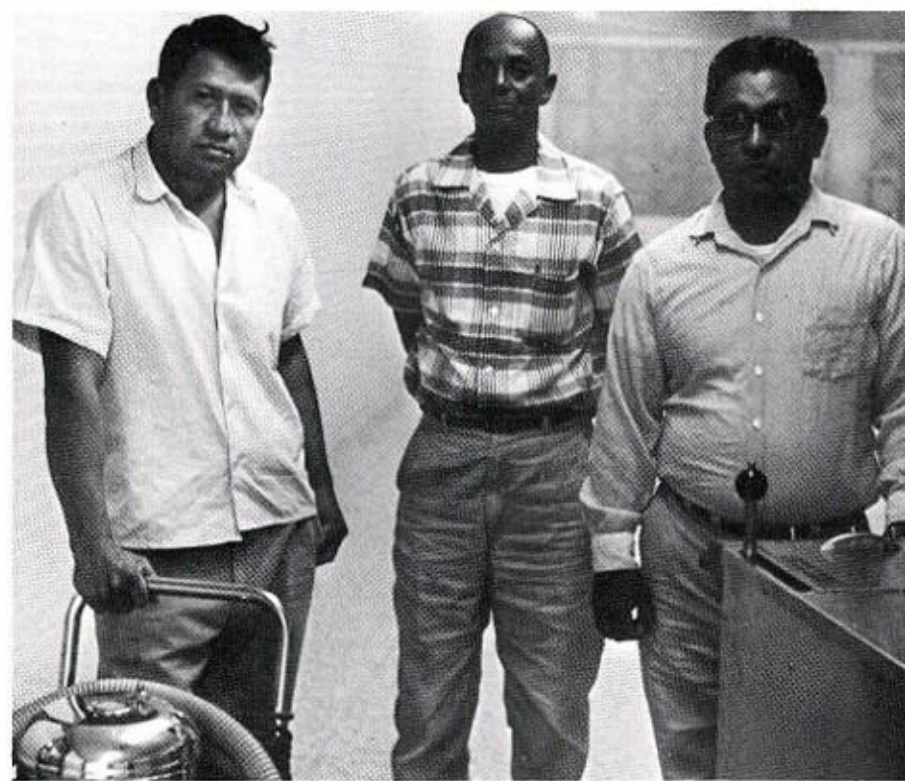

It takes much patience and hard work to maintain H. M. King High School.

Every day it must be swept, washed, and cleaned. The lawn must be mowed, floors waxed, carpets vacuumed, and spots cleaned as needed.

These are but a few of the duties of our custodians. What would we do without them?

Cleaning floors, blackboards, and boy's rest rooms are daily duties of Justo Pena, Jesse Garcia, and Alejandro Rojas.

Semi-annually the floors are cleaned, sealed, and waxed. Mariano Campos, Henry Murphy, and Raul Carrion aid in this job.

It's Dinnertime At KHS

Mrs. Sylvia Motes selects the proper pan to use in baking another of the cafeteria cake desserts.

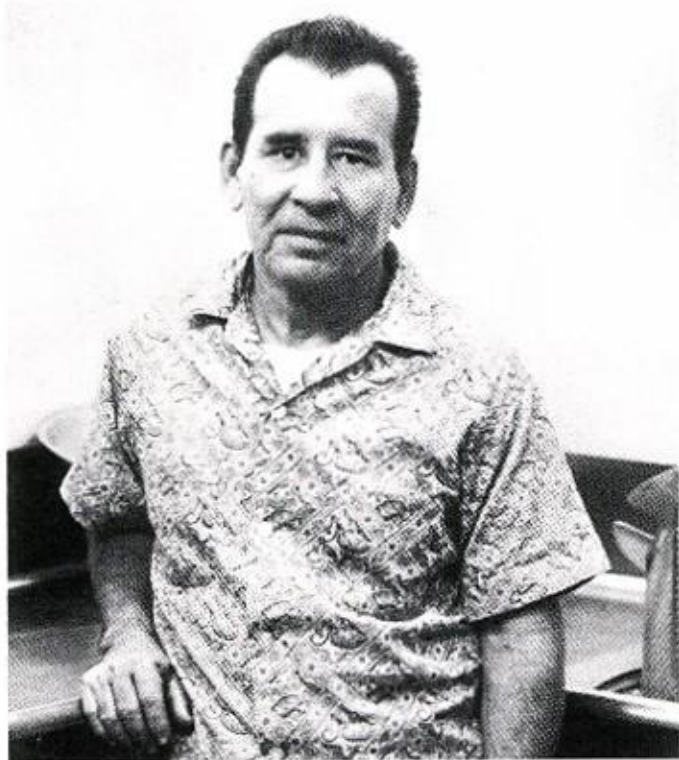

Mrs. Louise Alexander plans one of the well-balanced meals served every day in the cafeteria.

Cafeteria chefs start rustling their pans each morning at seven o'clock to provide a well-balanced meal for the 500 students who dine in the cafeteria daily.

Each Tuesday over 1500 enchiladas are prepared as part of the traditional Spanish style meal.

The brightly trimmed cakes which are baked annually at Christmas and Easter add a special touch to the seasons.

"And you think you have dirty dishes. I wash over 500 every day," complains Manuel Trevino.

Fixing hamburger is a joint effort as Mrs. Minnie Benton and Mrs. Lydia Del Moral unpack hamburger buns to be warmed.

Mrs. Irene Skipper and Mrs. Lily Charlton begin preparation on the stack of meat patties for the soon-to-come snack bar rush.

"Hey, look up in the sky; it's Batman!" exclaims Mr. Ed Rawlinson and Mike Colwell at the Faculty-Senior boys Basketball Game.

"Oh no you don't!" Roman mother Jameda Sinclair struggles to keep daughter Bette Rosse from being taken away to marriage life by husband Mike McBride in the Roman marriage skit presented at a Latin Club meeting.

Not enjoyment, and not sorrow,
Is our destined end or way;
But to act, that each to-morrow
Find us farther than to-day.

- Longfellow
